Editorial . . .

Protests are so much in the public eye and ear these days that it is almost becoming fashionable to protest about one's right to protest — and this leads many to suspect that protesters are more interested in asserting the right to protest than in the causes they are ostensibly espousing. This suspicion is understandably engendered by those protests which take the form of noisy and often belligerent demonstrations.

A demonstration is a legitimate way of presenting a cause to the public and to the appropriate authorities. But demonstrations are earning a bad name for themselves. Far from winning public sympathy, a demonstration frequently prejudices the public against the cause before it is given a hearing. Why is this?

Many protests fail to gain public support because they are associated with violence and vandalism. Those who attend the demonstrations do so not out of a belief in a cause, but because of the excuse provided for fistcuffs, rock and bottle hurling, and drunken obscenities. The small number of dedicated persons who start a demonstration with the best of motives may not anticipate the extent to which their numbers will be swollen by inquisitive and excitable bystanders, eager for a chance to undermine established principles of civility and decency, and with little real interest in, or even knowledge of, the subject of the protest.

A sensation hungry press must accept responsibility for the fact that disorderly, law-breaking demonstrations are widely publicized, while sober and peaceful (and therefore potentially more effective) demonstrations seldom find their way into the news media.

Demonstrators must keep in mind that if they are seeking public support they must keep within the bounds of behaviour that will be tolerated by the public. Their protests should be well organized, controlled and publicized. As the alternative means of protest—petitions, letters to M.P.'s and editors, etc.—are notoriously ineffectual, the value of demonstrations should not be allowed to fall prey to a dissolute and moronic minority.

Rutherford Memorial Day

"Enter New Zealand, bearing a torch".

These words of Sir Guy Powles, New Zealand's Ombudsman, provided the theme of his address to school on Rutherford Day. Sir Guy, in emphasising New Zealand's place in the world today, captured the interest of his audience, by making relevant to New Zealand the well-known words of Shakespeare: "all the world's a stage . . ." If these words were to be taken literally, then Sir Guy wondered what New Zealand's role should be, and what stage directions would apply to her. His own suggestion was that New Zealand should enter bearing a torch of progress and, having played her part fully in the world scene, she would make her exit from the stage still proudly bearing the torch. This torch, he continued, had been lit by men such as Lord Rutherford, and it was up to each individual to keep this torch alight. Although the average New Zealand citizen could have little control over the production of another Rutherford, he did have a great amount to do with the production of the conditions which might result in the emergence of another Rutherford. These conditions were within four fields: agriculture, social legislation, racial equality, and education. Sir Guy gave special emphasis to the education system which he said must be reformed and amplified. What pleased his audience was the fact that Sir Guy challenged the future rather than regurgitated the past.

Prior to Sir Guy's address, Mr Clark opened the ceremony by welcoming the guests, among whom were Sir Ronald Algie, who was last year's guest speaker, members of the Past Pupils' Association, and wives and husbands of staff members. Mr Clark also paid tribute to Lord Rutherford, whose renowned contribution in the field of research has made him an outstanding New Zealander.

The pupils, too, played their part in the ceremony by wholeheartedly singing under the encouraging direction of Mr Holibar "Song of

The Ombudsman and some of our prefects.

"Peace" from "Finlandia" by Sibelius, and "Tradition" from "Fiddler on the Roof."

Following the ceremony, the Homecraft Department provided staff and guests with a most enjoyable luncheon.

Once again Rutherford Day was an extremely successful event in the school year.

School Council

One of the most radical changes taking place in the education system is a shift from the traditional teacher-dominated organization of learning to the greater participation of pupils in school organization, and decision-making. Staff and pupils at Rutherford have felt for some time the need for greater involvement of pupils in decisions and activities which affect them, and at Mr Clark's request a staff committee was established last year to investigate ways of bringing about greater pupil involvement. This committee decided that it was impossible for pupils to become more involved unless they had a strong desire to do so, and considerable discussion with pupils took place on the possibility of beginning a school council. At the beginning of this year the committee called a meeting of all pupils interested in a school council, and suggested that they decide on a structure which would suit the needs of the school, and areas of activity a council could usefully undertake.

As a result a group of about a dozen really enthusiastic pupils met in lunch hours for several weeks to gather suggestions, draw up a constitution, and organize the elections for the first school council. These pupils are to be congratulated on the enthusiasm and competence they showed. Without them the council would not have been possible.

During the first term elections were held and the council began its meetings. A special vote of thanks must go to the first chairman of the school council, George Spratt, for his excellent leadership and organization, and to Glenys Lewis, the secretary, for her keeping of minutes and circulating of information. Staff members who attended council meetings and executive committee meetings have been most impressed by the quiet reasonableness and strength which the chairman has shown throughout the year, and by the enthusiasm and efforts of many council members.

Many successes have been achieved by the council. Among the most important tasks they have undertaken have been these:

Organizing:

- Socials for various form levels.
- The Car Rally on Rutherford Day.
- Pupils for the local Corso collection.

Assisting in the organization of:

- The first school ball.
- The wheelbarrow race for the S.C.F.
- Operetta arrangements.
- The school newspaper committee.

Arranging for pupils:

- Lunchhour study rooms for 5th and 6th forms.
- A 6A common room.
- Repair of drinking fountains.
- Erection of notice boards.
- Provision of soap and towels in girls' toilet blocks.
- Permission for girls to wear slacks for P.E. in winter.

Two major activities have been their attempts to overcome the problems of litter and vandalism around the school. During the second term they organized an anti-litter campaign which was very effective in improving, temporarily at least, the appearance of the school. Through the discussions of council members with their classes, pupils have been made more aware of how both litter and vandalism make the school a more uncomfortable place for the pupils themselves, and this should help pupils to prevent some of the mess.

Several sub-committees have been established for investigating complaints about uniforms and grooming checks. Their main problem has been getting enough reasoned and thoughtful response from pupils to build a well-documented case. For instance, only six out of fifteen fifth forms bothered to return a questionnaire that was circulated to them on girls' uniform. Many pupils have criticised the council for lack of action on these matters, but it can be seen very clearly from this instance and others that the main problem is the inability of most pupils to suggest workable alternatives or to support a reasoned case by thinking clearly and passing on their opinions to the council for action.

Next year, returning council members have arranged to meet within the first fortnight to work out a calendar of social events for the year, thus avoiding some of the timing difficulties of this year, and to organize the elections for next year's council.

Although the council members have sometimes found their classes apathetic or unable to bring forward helpful suggestions, the council has had a very successful first year. It is hoped that all pupils will next year take a lively interest in making their council work smoothly. The more pupils show their readiness to think, talk and work on council matters with reasonableness and enthusiasm, the greater the share they will earn in making decisions which will ensure a happy school life.

Our Sponsorship Scheme

What have mini and maxi peggy squares, wheelbarrow derbies, traffic officers, unmentionable objects, a Vietnamese guitar player, talented pupils, sweets, fruit, clean staff cars, indoor basketball got in common? They all helped raise money for our sponsored children. Of course the weekly levy provided the main part of our income of $800, but this was usefully augmented by some more less usual activities. The modern trend in accounting is not to confuse people with statistics but to describe the accounts so that even the most ignorant shareholder can understand them—so here goes.

We managed to engage an "overseas artist" for a performance, and had an enjoyable lunch-hour entertained by a very mod Vietnamese student on the Spanish guitar. We were also supposed to have some Indian tabla and sitar players, but unfortunately they did not arrive in time, having been "misled" by Auckland signposts.

At the talent quest we had many talented performers. However, you can have too much of a good thing and it was quite refreshingly pleasant to have entrants who had no talent at all—Garry Fife and Donald Kerr looked very playboyish decked in their modish outfits, and as they pranced on to the stage we watched them in eager their problem of car cleanliness (for a consideration of course). What did dismay 4B was the lack of trust displayed by some staff members who did not surrender their car keys. It was fortunate they did not see their beloved vehicles manhandled round to the washing station!

A pair of quiet little third formers showed us how to raise money by organising a weekend stall on their own. Sharon Blomfield and Judy Keen raised a very welcome $6.

The staff v pupils indoor basketball match should have been a walkover. How could the pupils expect to win when a certain staff member is 7ft tall? But it was really by unfair tactics anticipation, waiting for something different—something—they pranced off the stage.

Many forms nobly conducted sweet stalls and the hero of this tale is Chris Howard, who modestly showed his burns which had resulted from his toffee making. The best stall was put on by 4B and their form teacher, Mr Reid. This was in the form of a Covent Garden stall but we can say little about it as everything was sold before most of us could get away from our enthusiastic teachers.

Now everybody knows how hard-working teachers are and it is no wonder that many of them thankfully accepted 4B's offer to overcome that the staff managed a draw. Still the main thing was the money and we must keep matters in the right perspective.

We really owe the traffic officers a great deal for their invaluable assistance on the day of our wheelbarrow derby. The cheating that went on was incredible. According to our traditional rules one body stays in the wheelbarrow while the other body pushes, but the first body got out in many cases leaving the other happily pushing an empty barrow. 4J had a very unusual entry but it had to go in the decorative section because we couldn't get anybody to sit in it. It is too embarrassing to go into further particulars.

4M and their form teacher Miss Smith organised a peggy square knitting competition. 3C and 3H were placed first equal. The Senior Student Council ran a very successful and accident free car rally. Half the proceeds was given to the sponsorship scheme.

We have helped the Save the Children Fund in other ways too. Early in the year we supplied some collectors for their house to house collection; we had a mammoth stamp collection and a smaller tea coupon collection, both organised by Mr Regan; and we have sold large quantities of their Christmas cards. The two hardest working students in this direction are Paulette Livermore who sold over 1,000 and Greg Pascoe who sold over 500.

Paulette Livermore, who sold over 1,000 Christmas Cards.

All that is on one side of our accounts—our side. What is on their side? Our efforts mean a new deal for the children we are helping. They are all now at High School and they have the prospect of an education and a much brighter future. Without our help they would not be at High School. It is as simple as that. The increase in the cost of living overseas has placed a strain on our resources because this has meant we have had to send more for our children to stay at school but we feel confident we can manage to continue our help until it is no longer needed. We are pleased that Chiu Wai Mui's family can now manage on their own and that our assistance for a few years has enabled them to keep together as a family.

And what do those two hours on a Saturday morning mean? Or the stamps you brought? Or the cards you purchased? These three activities will help some anonymous child in Biafra, Vietnam, Korea or Greece. Our school can justifiably be proud of its record in this field.

CRUSADER UNION

The Crusader Union has been functioning in this school for two years and after a rather slow start last year has developed into a first-class lunchtime activity for the pupils of the school.

The Union is designed to appeal to most of the school most of the time, and to this end a committee of pupils representing all age-groups in the school was established to co-ordinate the year's activities. Some of the highlights of the Wednesday lunchtime meetings were "Fact and Faith" films, missionary speakers, slides and discussions and although the average attendance for these meetings was only about sixty, there were up to two hundred at the films. Apart from these meetings there were Bible study groups over part of the year held on Monday lunch-times and there were several informal evening get-togethers. Next year it is planned that there will be an evening trip to the Helensville hot pools fairly early in the year to complement a programme even more extensive and stimulating than this year's.

On a wider scale the New Zealand Crusader Union organises a variety of holiday camps ranging from cycle tours to a retreat for senior crusaders and an ecological study at Piha for Biology pupils. Many of our number enjoyed these activities last year and it is certain that these camps will continue to play an increasing role in the holiday recreation of this school.

THE MIKADO

This year's production from the Opera Club was Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" which was presented in the school hall for four nights during August. The Opera played to good houses and was very well received by the audiences.

A feature of this year's production was that many of the parts had been double-cast with one set of players appearing one night and the alternate cast appearing the next. This gave more people more experience and also proved a wise precaution in view of the 'flu' epidemic raging in the last two or three weeks of rehearsal. Luckily no principals were 'flu' victims on the actual performance dates but almost all had succumbed at some stage.

It was very interesting to note, when comparing the two casts that in most cases they were pretty evenly matched. One player would develop the character from one aspect while his counterpart would compensate by extending a different facet of the character. In the role of Yum-Yum Alison Boniface and Ann Fisher alternated. As Pitti-Sing Anne Harrison and Judy Cumber appeared, while the part of Peep-Bo was shared by Pamela Hart and Catherine Wilson. Jessica Rigold and Tina van Hutten were the Katishas, and Kevin Robinson and Ian Hogg acted the part of Pish-Tush. The parts of Nanki-Poo, Pooh-Bah, Koko and the Mikado did not have alternate casts and those were taken respectively by Ian Smith, Greg Pedrotti, Simon Trevethick and Grant Hays. All members of the cast did well but special mention could be made of Grant Hays as a splendid Mikado and Greg Pedrotti as a fine Pooh-Bah.

The orchestra accompanying the opera consisted of adults who had kindly given their time to help the production. Some of these players were in some ways connected with the school, but many came in just for this occasion.

A number of teachers made substantial contributions to the success of the "Mikado" and amongst these were Mr Reid (whose delightful scenery enhanced the stage action considerably), Mr Stubbs (who very ably stage-managed the show) and Mr Laver and Miss Brame (who dealt with the make-up). The producer and musical director was Mr Holibar, and all are indebted to him for the many hours of his own time he devoted to the thorough preparation of all in the production.

Earlier in the year the Opera Club had sung with the New Zealand Opera Quartet during the visit of this group to the school in June and the Club also assisted at Rutherford Day by leading the singing.

LANGUAGE EVENING

Libraries are usually dreary places, but our school library was a 'trend-setter' on the evening of September 25 when we held our annual Language Evening. Mr Kneebone, with the aid of a few imaginative pupils, transformed the library into their equivalent of a continental cafe and the atmosphere seemed no different than if we had all been in France or Germany.

The library was dimly lit and Mrs de Jongh retrieved her dusty wine bottles from Room 41, spruced them up, and put them on the tables to perform their annual chore. The mystery of Mrs de Jongh's wine bottles has now been revealed. The only regret we had was that the wine bottles were empty.

There was no distinction between the seniors and the juniors and we all go on like old friends.

Each class entertained us and the junior classes especially are to be congratulated on the quality of their items. Not even Jeff Beck's guitar could have equalled the exquisite tone of the fourths singing 'Love is Blue' in French. Five French livened things up with their Fashion Parade, their 'French Mistress' looked so devastating that even Mr Laver raised an eyebrow and he raised the other when he saw their version of the Folk-Rock Musical—'Hair'. The 6B French class strained away singing with the 6B German class, but the overall effect, despite the pronunciation, was in traditional Rutherford style. 6B French played at being Opera Stars in Miss Brame's translated version of 'The Mikado', in French.

The highlight of the evening was 'sans doute' the item by 4 French, with David Cheesman as their 'Star'. Dressed as a woman and wearing a blonde wig and a rather daring gold lame dress he mimed perfectly to a French song. He had everyone in hysterics and yet he remained perfectly calm and unaffected by the laughter during the whole performance. The rest of his class acted as musicians and dancers could be the budding go-go dancers for a future series of C'mon.

After a mad dash in pouring rain to the Homecraft Room we came face to face with what the fifths and sixths had spent all afternoon preparing: the Supper. And what a supper it was! The Poisson Cru was at first accepted with a bit of suspicion, but after it had been sampled it rapidly disappeared. The Fleischklooschen mit Reis und Tomaten sauce was very popular, but the meat balls were inclined to be like peas and miss one's fork when a dive was made for them. The Cheese fondue was delicious, especially with the garlic bread which was so carefully sliced and prepared by two industrious sixth form boys. The gateaux were in traditional French style, nicely decorated with cream and trimming, by the fifth form girls. After a hot cup of coffee to finish off the supper, everyone made another frantic dash, through the rain, to the library.

With some very un-French records we attempted to have some 'quiet' dancing but we were entertained instead by a rather progressive fourth who produced one of the most creative dances ever.

The evening ended with everyone singing some German and French songs and finally la Marseillaise.

Our thanks go to Mrs de Jongh, Miss Brame, Mr Kneebone and all the other teachers and pupils who helped to make our Language Evening such a success.

THE SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

This year the school orchestra has had weekly practices every Wednesday lunch-hour in Room 9. We started the year without several of our more experienced players such as Christine Cottle, Donald Moorhead and Kay Wrightson and during the year have lost Keith Robertson, so that the membership has had to rely on the few remaining experienced players, together with some beginners. As the year has advanced a few more beginners, from the instrument classes, have joined.

The work of the orchestra, this year, has been mainly practising. As there has been no concert one of the occasions on which the orchestra performs has not been available, but senior prize-giving provides an opportunity for the players to accompany the singing.

As usual the instrument classes have run a course parallel to the orchestra. The instruments taught were violin and viola taken by Mrs Ellwood, clarinet by Mr Hopkins, and brass by Mr Dixon.

THE LIBRARY

With the end of this year comes the end of the first full year in the new library, a building playing an important part in the life of the school. Expansion in book stock has been rapid, with over 1,500 new books being added to the library, bringing the total stock to over 11,000 books.

In the reference section, both the arts and science sections have been built up, with increasing use being made of them by senior pupils. The psychology shelves have seen rapid growth with the introduction of Liberal Studies and other non-University Entrance options, largely under the enthusiasm and guidance of Miss Pountney. The fiction section has seen a considerable increase also, in all types from science fiction to easy reading.

This year has also seen continued experimentation in the layout and library system, and we hope to have a permanent arrangement by the end of next year. It has also been necessary to move the main entrance after three panes were broken, due to the blustery wind blowing the doors open. The inconvenience caused during alterations, however, was well worthwhile, as the change of location has remedied the problem.

The brightly coloured chairs, the sanded and revarnished tables and the addition to the pupils' art collection have added to the general brightness of the library.

Our thanks are due to those pupils, present and past, who have donated books to the library, and especially to Mr Sinclair and the Auckland Star.

No article about the library would be complete without reference to the valuable work done by Mrs Parker, the librarian, and Mr Regan, the teacher librarian, with whom general management of the library rests. With the extra work resulting from moving into the new buildings, it was necessary to obtain the help of Mrs Kella-way two afternoons a week. Although helped as much as possible by the library committee, Mr

Regan and the two ladies seem to have the bulk of the work to do, as the library committee, under the leadership of Alan Webster, can give assistance only when not in class.

In all, the library has progressed enormously in the past year, and prospects for the future look even brighter with the increased interest of both staff and pupils.

Fourth form metalworkers and woodworkers.

TECHNICRAFT '69

For the first time in ten years or more Primary, Manual Training and Secondary Schools in the Auckland Education Board area participated in a display of their Technical work at the Auckland Building Centre.

Some 120 schools took part in the Display of Woodwork, Metalwork, Engineering and Technical Drawings of pupils — boys and girls — from form one to form six.

Despite some apprehensions the Display was an outstanding success and the work contributed by Rutherford compared favourably with any other school. This was only to be expected!

As well as displays of completed work some schools were asked to supply students who would work at their various crafts while visitors could watch and ask questions. Nine Rutherford fifth formers attended and had to stand the strain of being watched and criticised by pupils and staff from other schools and the general public. B. Wheaton, K. Sanders, L. Rameka, A. Peddieson, J. Ingham, B. Pook, J. Smith, T. Brown and B. McKay worked well, Tim Brown's ship's helm wheel creating considerable interest.

A display such as this proved to be should allay the fears of those who think Technical pupils can make only toothbrush racks and poker—a go-cart, dinghy, canoes, cabinets, toys, a scooter, brass and copper work, vitreous enamel work and a great deal more showing the tremendous breadth of work being done.

ENGINEERING HOBBIES CLUBS

Two of these clubs were formed early in the year, one for 6A pupils held during Wednesday lunch time, and one for third form pupils held on Monday afternoon.

Quite a few pupils availed themselves of the opportunity of participating in these classes, but attendances fell away during the year.

From the interest shown during the attendance at these classes early in the year it appears that the classes are fulfilling a useful purpose and it is hoped to organise them again next year.

GYMNASIUM

In May, 1969, eight months after it was started, and nine years after it should have been started, the first gymnasium for Rutherford High School and the Te Atatu community was ready for use.

It is a 91ft. by 67ft. building, equipped with a few of the muscle-building, fat-crushing and fun-rendering items found in most good gymnasiums. One unique feature, for Auckland gyms any way, is the combi-unit that swings out from the wall and replaces the standard wall bar.

Badminton, basketball and volley ball are all featured along with a gradually expanding stock of gymnastic gear. A very popular feature is the double set of ropes which are revealing real potential in our return to the apeman.

After two terms' continuous use, the gym still looks in perfect condition (apart from the odd mark on the floor), but having cost $45,000, we want it to stay this way.

With a new gym, a glorious swimming pool and well kept grounds, Rutherford can be proud of recreational facilities of a very high standard.

Our thanks go to the Board of Governors, the Architect and Contractors for their part in this project. It is up to us now to use the facilities profitably and at the same time preserve them for future use.

Team teaching block under construction.

TEAM TEACHING BLOCK

After two years' preliminary planning, the work on the team teaching block is at present under way and the building will be ready for use at the beginning of the 1970 school year.

The lecture theatre is the main feature of the block and will seat 140 pupils. There are no windows and the theatre is completely air-conditioned. A projection box is associated with the room and provision will be made for showing moving films and slides. The room will also have its own overhead projector. Leading off from the theatre itself is a large storage and preparation room.

Demonstration experiments can be set up on a mobile bench, which may be slid out and placed in position at the front of the lecture room. Provision has been made for water, gas and electricity to be plugged into the movable bench.

The block also has four seminar rooms, each half the size of a normal classroom. After a topic has been introduced to the large group in the lecture theatre the group may break up into smaller units and move into the seminar rooms for further discussion.

Provision has also been made for seating bays on the south side of the block, so that in good weather seminar groups may be conducted outside.

Although the team teaching block is basically a teaching unit, the lecture theatre will prove very valuable for small assemblies and for gathering together groups of up to 140 pupils for lectures by outside speakers.

One great advantage of the lecture theatre is that it will provide the opportunity for more pupils to be taught by senior teachers than would be possible under the conventional classroom arrangement.

The block has been designed by Mr G. J. Elliott and is particularly tailored to the needs of the school. We feel that it is an advantage to have a block built in this way, rather than have to accept the standard plan.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS' SCIENCE EXHIBITION

Valerie Moore's entry in this year's Secondary Schools' Science exhibition at the War Memorial Museum gained second place in the Senior Biology display class. The entry was designed to illustrate the structure of wood.

SENIOR GEOGRAPHY TRIP 1969

8.00a.m. Grinds of gears and we're off. Half way along the motorway Mr Regan presented an embarrassed pupil with a toilet roll which officially announced our "Keeper of the Roll". With morning tea at Hamilton, our next stop was Tokoroa for lunch. Here we were told not to fraternize with the natives, but there seemed to be an abundance of Chinese students . . . ! On through Kinleith Forest to Taupo College. After setting up sleeping quarters, we all rushed down to cheer their 1st XV on. Tea came next with curried sausages, accompanied with today's specialty, unset Coconut Pudding, made by three nameless cooks. Various members of the trip's hierarchy were induced to eat some. After considerable persuasion all agreed it was quite edible despite its sour cream appearance. That night we had a suspense-killing evening watching the 'HAPPIEST MILLIONAIRE'. About 11 we went to bed to a sleepless night.

Next day we went on a sleepy trip around the lake to Turangi. After visiting the Information centre we went to look over the Tongariro Power Project. Then we went for a walk down to L. Roto-aira (for you non-geographers that's the tip of L. Taupo). In the afternoon we did a survey of the town. For tea that night the 3 nameless cooks redeemed themselves somewhat by making a delicious Apple Crumble.

At night several people went to the Taupo Baths.

We all woke the next morning at around 7.00. Breakfast was scheduled for 7.15. We didn't make a start until 7.30. Still, by 8.00 (our E.T.D.) we were all loaded and rearing to go. A few miles along the road we stopped at the Wairakei Information centre and then a tour round the Geothermal Power Scheme and through the power houses. This took about 1½ hours. It was well worth it. We stopped just before lunch at the Reporoa Dairy Factory where we were given a talk by a technician—not many people appreciated it as we were woken in the middle of one of our many catnaps. Waiotapu—a very pretty place—was where we lunched on luncheon sausage and mosquitos lunched on us. In the middle of the afternoon we stopped at Waipa State Forest. Here we were shown all around the mill; it was extremely interesting. Judging by murmurs of assent I think it can be seen that everyone thought this was the best and most interesting trip we did. We then went to the Whakarewara forest for a talk by a forestry man on the diseases affecting trees and problems of afforesting land. Tauranga came into sight at 5.00 and at 6.00 we sat down to another tea. That night a willing few tried to organise a dance—we had the pupils and the records but little enthusiasm; they preferred 4 square to dancing. So at 8.00 Harold rescued us and we had a sing-song to the accompaniment of his ukelele.

The next day we went to the new Tauranga port development and then on to Kawerau via Matata. Kawerau was also a town study centre. We had lunch in the playground—from experience we can say that their playground has very good facilities. After lunch we went to the Tasman Pulp and Paper mill. This was much the same as Waipa, until we got to the paper manufacture. Rolls about 20ft long roll the paper and this can go up to 48 hours without breaking, but it broke twice—just for us! That night we went to the Tauranga Trade fair, featuring the Hamilton County Blue Grass Band; also some boys having cuts and hairsets by pretty blondes.

We were now homeward-bound — lunch in Hamilton and a trip around the Te Rapa Dairy factory. At the Bombay Hill a bus could be seen floating with streamers—very effective. On Grafton Bridge 31 charitable Rutherfordians could be seen feeding starving students apples.

We would like to thank sincerely Mr Regan, Mr Coughlan, Miss Hart, Miss Holden and Miss Verrall, and especially Harold. We all had a wonderful trip.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Discussion Club: Early in the year a small group of pupils met for some debates and speeches, but before long, involvement in operetta practices and sports reduced the numbers so much that the club gradually died. Many members, though, have been able to develop their interest in public speaking and discussion through School Council meetings. It seems likely that in future years Council work will be the best training for those interested in talking.

Kaipara Debate: This year for the first time the local Junior Chamber of Commerce organised an inter-school debating contest. Rutherford's team (Leader: Jessica Rigold; second speaker: Mark Rassie; third speaker: Ino Kelderman), had the affirmative side of the subject "That racial segregation is desirable" — quite against the convictions of all three speakers—and, although losing the debate, performed very creditably against Kaipara College. Kaipara deserved their victory fully, and we hope that this contest will continue next year so we may meet them again for an equally enjoyable afternoon.

Anthony Eden Cup Contest: Our entrant in this contest, organised by the Royal Overseas League, was Jessica Rigold. She spoke very well on the set subject, "The achievements of Captain James Cook in relation to other British explorers", and learnt a great deal from hearing and talking to contestants from other Auckland schools.

School Speech Contest: The semi-finals for the school contest were held in lunch hours for almost a week at the beginning of Term III. Each day a large, interested audience attended and obviously enjoyed the skill of all those who competed. Each year the standard of speaking has risen in the junior school, but something is still happening to seniors. This year, for example, only three sixth formers entered the contest, and although all the contestants were very good it is disappointing that so few sixth formers recognise the value of talking in public as a preparation for future life. It is also noticeable that of the sixteen finalists chosen only three were girls. Does this reflect an attitude in the school that women should be seen and not heard?

The finals were judged by Mr F. Gaze, Head of English at Mt Roskill Grammar School, whom we thank for his very thoughtful and helpful comments to competitors.

SIXTH FORM DINNER

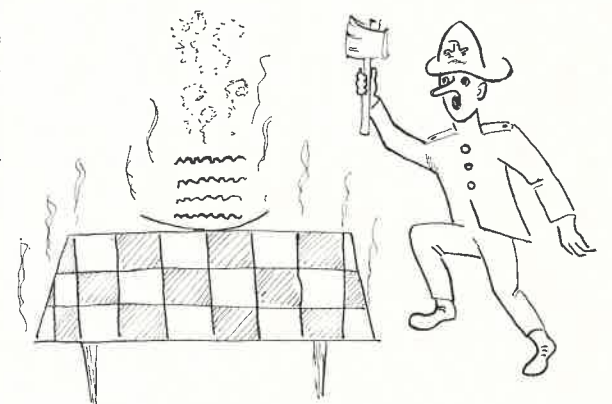

The 1969 sixth form dinner was slightly different from what it has been in the past. Because of economic and mechanical reasons it was held in the Homecraft Block. The attendance was not as good as one had expected—what with flu' epidemics and financial plights—however, those who came would agree it was a most enjoyable evening.

Fruit punch was served in Room 9 at 6.30 p.m. Then at 7.00 p.m. everyone made their way to the two dining areas.

The atmosphere was that of an intimate continental restaurant; the tables were draped with richly checkered table cloths, candles were set in wax encrusted wine bottles, and each table was graced with an elegant champagne glass with floral arrangement which served as a subtle fire-extinguisher for the rather fast burning candles.

First there was a choice of two soups—Potage au jambon or Bouillon au poulet—which were served with such efficiency and speed to the distress of one waiter. This was followed by an entree of Champignons aux Biscottes — special rich egg, yeast raised biscuit, crowned with mushrooms, garnished with tomato and parsley. Saumon Mousse—bottled salmon marinated in white wine with onion and french capers, served in a mould and topped with sour cream sauce, and paprika—garnished with lemon and lettuce.

Crepes flambes a la Te Atatu Fire Brigade

It was at this stage the liquid refreshments were served by the attentive waiters. Because of the rather harsh climatic conditions. Because of the very young red wine took some time to reach 64 deg. F. The banquet was brought to the height of its glory, and all that's left is to sing its praises.

The main course: Chicken Chow Mein and Riz a Cari with side dishes of toasted coconut, pineapple, mango chutney, crystallised ginger and blanched almonds.

During each course couples took the opportunity to dance.

The sweets were exotic as usual:

Syllabub—this was a refreshing dessert made from fresh farm eggs, dry white wine and clotted cream. It was served most attractively in a champagne glass, sugared with coffee crystals and decorated with lemon peel, cherries and piped cream.

Crepes aux Liqueur—this dessert consisted of pancakes alternating with a layer of peaches and pears soaked in lemonade and maraschino mixture and a layer of cherries and ground almonds with fresh raspberries. Of course this was the traditional flambe executed with great precision by all waiters.

Coffee and mints were served at 9.30 p.m.

Many thanks to all those staff and pupils involved in ensuring the success and in particular Mr Beckingsale who had the nerve-racking task of organisation and Mrs McKay and Miss McKenzie with their first class team of cooks, dish-washers and servers.

SIXTH FORM RECREATION PROGRAMME

As a change from routine Physical Education lessons, a special programme of recreational activities was this year devised for the sixth form by the Physical Education Department at the instigation of Mr Evans. The programme appears to have been appreciated by the pupils themselves.

One of them writes: "This year's 6B P.E. plan has been a thoroughly enjoyable one for me and I think for the teachers too. The reason for this is that the periods are informal, and we are not restricted to the extent that other forms are. This creates a relaxed atmosphere and a welcome change from the routine timetable of ordinary lessons at school and swotting at home. It provides us with opportunities to experience activities which we would not be able to engage in otherwise owing to the varied equipment made available to us by the plan."

Some of the activities forming part of the scheme have been: judo, yoga, golf, archery, badminton, table tennis, volley ball, tennis, swimming athletics, and softball.

THE SCHOOL BALL

In any school's life, the first school ball is a major event. No longer is it a matter of a 'social' or a 'dance', but it is an introduction to the adult world.

The Ball was held on Friday, 22nd August, and was a tremendous success. We carried on the tradition of the earlier school production of 'The Mikado' by having a Japanese theme. An enormous dragon crawled sinuously across the top of the stage, which was highlighted in iridescent paint and had ultra violet lighting on it. Opposing the dragon at the other end of the Hall was a Buddha standing almost fifteen feet high. The courtyard side of the Hall was transformed into an enclosed patio which provided seating, and was decorated with cherry blossom and other Japanese items. To add to the splendour, there were small 'geisha girls' on hand most of the night serving punch.

The Max Brown Quartet played enthusiastically all night, punctuated occasionally by Mr Dowling the M.C. Guests were greeted by the Head Boy and Girl, two members from the Student Council and the Senior Mistress, Miss Corston, in the foyer where there was a beautiful rockery garden with water running down over the rocks. This was also the background for the photographer, John Lesnie, who supplied us with some superb photographs. Outside Prefects went on to be introduced to Mr and Mrs Clark.

The hall was a terrific sight with the decorations and the dignified and formal dress, matched by the formal dancing.

Supper was served in two sittings so that guests could appreciate Mrs McKay's superlative efforts. Straight after supper we were entertained by our guest spot, The Vision, who are a folk group and enjoyed by all age groups.

Among guests were a number of the Board of Governors, Staff, outside prefects and last year's Head Girl Prefect.

Many thanks go to a number of staff and pupils for making our first Ball such a success. It was enjoyed by all and we hope will be the forerunner for many more in the future.

BALLROOM DANCING — 1969

Early in the first term the ballroom dancing classes commenced along with the other dozen activities.

Classes were to be held on Monday night and Wednesday lunch-time. The first lesson attracted large numbers of girls but only one or two 'brave' boys. The first and foremost problem of any N.Z. dancing class seems to be encouraging boys to attend. Nevertheless the lesson was held and even though boys were precious most people enjoyed themselves.

Avid campaigning and gentle persuasion resulted in a slightly better male turnout. As the reputation increased the numbers evened out.

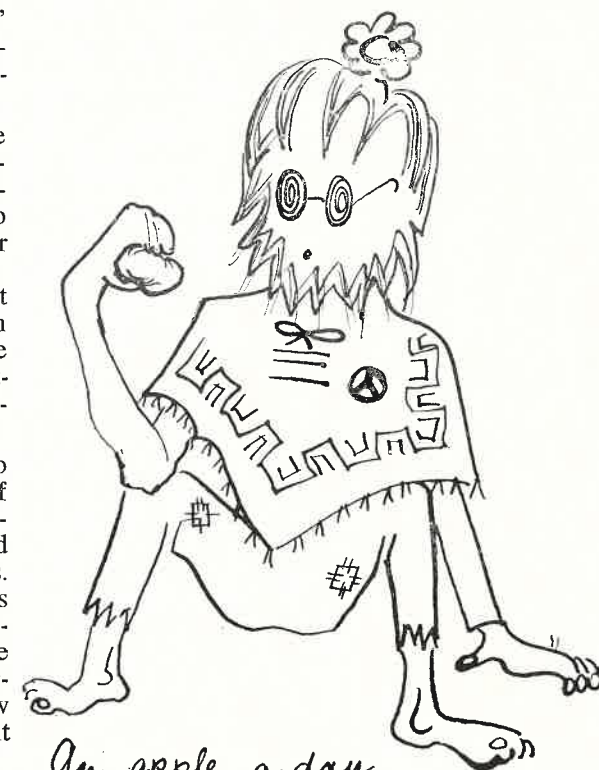

Amidst silent jeering from childish 'he-men' outside the hall the 'sissies' persevered and discovered the fun and enjoyment of ballroom dancing.

Starting with basic foxtrot the steps became more and more complicated. The dancers advanced through three quickstep steps, five cha-cha steps, modern and traditional waltz and, to keep in with today's swinging trends, a number of variations of the American Swing.

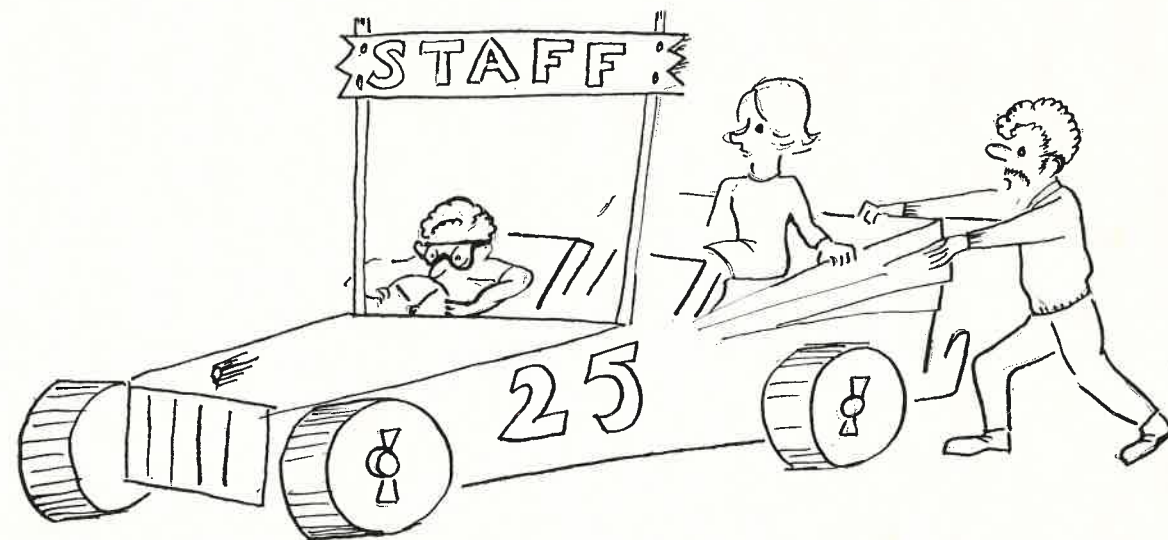

Unaided, Mr Laver spent much time and effort in making his lessons a success. He, especially on Monday nights, gave up much of his time for the dancers' benefit. On behalf of all those who attended his lessons I wish to thank him tremendously for his lessons.

Many may ask whether it was a success. Two facts prove it was. Firstly it was the, or one of the, longest surviving clubs this year and secondly, many of those at the School Ball gained their knowledge of dancing through his classes.

All I can say in conclusion is that Mr Laver's continuing the lessons next year would be appreciated by many people. The boys, because they could go to the Ball without fear of embarrassment and the girls because they would now be able to attend the Ball with their confident Casanovas.

Creative Writing Week

A vast quantity of creative writing confronted the staff member whose task it was to adjudicate the contest this year, and all who inspected the results were impressed with the range of material presented. This annual event has proved its worth, as the selection printed in this magazine should indicate. Perhaps no literary genius here, but no lack of imagination and feeling.

Prizewinners this year are:

PINEWOODS LOOKOUT

The thin, frequently used path led through dry stalks of wheaty grass. They lagged behind clinging and trying to grasp my cotton shorts like young children. Embedded tree roots also lined the trail. I clasped my hands firmly about my knees like tourniquets and I gave a deep sigh as I plunged my toes into the sand-like soil. Then suddenly, without noticing it, I was at the top of the incline. Before me stood a dismal, concrete air-raid shelter, roughly built and very old; I couldn't stand the inviting temptation and persuaded myself to venture inside. The floor was covered with marble-like pieces of dirt, bunches of spindley straw, rusty pine needles and several screwed up white paper bags.

I then scrambled out dismayed at the sight I had just witnessed. I ferociously stamped at the crusty earth and heaved myself farther up the grassy bank. I saw before me a network of splintery branches cascading over the dirt embankment. There was a small quantity of lancy pines overlooking the inlet of the Orewa Channel. An average-sized pohutukawa had its beacon-like plumage carefully launched against the vicious wind. Tiny ferns had their green velvet leaves battered. People swam, splashing and diving while others preferred to walk or run over the wet, brown sand.

Numerous pebbles covered the edge of the sand from the side I was watching and thick rocks lay emplaned in the ripply mud-like sand. A great barrier of enormous rocks were a border line in the middle of the dangerous current. Signs warned of the peril to swimmers here. Fishermen pollute the estuary by disembowelling kahawai and gurnet. Their small punt is anchored nearby, bobbling endlessly on the turbulent waters. A child plays in the sand, his small fingers plodding the surface. A fisherman's reel sings and a ring of ripples spins out from the sinker's sudden thrust. The line grows taut, the rod's tip dips and dives, the fisherman grows suddenly alert and tense. He lets the reel run its course and then quickly recovers the line onto the reel; the fish fights, the fight is earnest, its life depends on it. Who will win? The man has; the fish, glowing with brave colours, dashes and darts. The fish has been lucky, he has slipped the foul dart and swam fleetly away. The fisherman sinks slowly onto the sand, disappointment in his posture.

RAINDROPS

A raindrop slips from its hold on a delicate pink petal and plummets down to the sweet smelling wet grass. The wind howls and sends a gust of murderous movement to the rose. Its now deformed petals fly like a string of pink flamingos into the horizon, banished from this cruel world for eternity.

LONELINESS

Loneliness is sitting on a park bench alone with just your thoughts and imagination,

Walking along the beach with just the water,
lapping at your feet,

Nothing to hear but the splashing of the water on the sand.

Loneliness is watching other people having fun and enjoyment, and realising just
How much you are missing.

Loneliness is that dreadful feeling of not belonging.

Karen Gordon, 4J.

THE PIKE

He slides through the shimmering water shedding light from his transparent scales, which are in layers over his stick like body.

His wide eyes are sharp and do not miss a thing. He is still for a moment; his body is stiff from hunger, his wit and reactions begin to slow, his body is turned over onto its side as he slowly floats to the surface. His silvery body becomes pale as the sun is drawn away, and the pike floats along the surface of the water, dead.

MORTALITY

It happens so quickly;
We don't even have a say in the matter.
We live briefly and happily,
And then spend the rest of our immortal
Days repaying our crimes.
We look down upon the sad world, and wonder,
What it is now like down there,
Just as we had once wondered
What it would be like up here.
We know now but are we satisfied with
Our present state?
Are we ever satisfied?
I think not.

R. Campton, 5M10.

The alarm clock rings and shatters the sleeping world.
It seems only minutes since the tired head lay down peacefully the night before.
A tired droopy hand slithers out of bed to search for the clock or radio beside the bed.

The radio announcer cheerfully rambles on,
while you slide your feet to the floor and search for the warmth of a dressing gown.
It's cold, and you're cold, and angry too.
Thoughts of creeping back to the empty bed to sleep the day through, race through your mind.

But suddenly the reality of the usual morning
bustle brings you alive and sleep is forgotten until that night.

Charmaine Reid, 5M4.

LONELINESS

Emptiness — utter emptiness.
A hollow hurt starts in the heart,
It creeps and creeps until the body is immersed
And then the mind sinks and sinks into it.
Loneliness flows out from the beholder
It touches others, triggering pity, love
Or even hate, as it flows on its relentless course.
But society still shuns it with equal venom.

Lynnette Garry, 6B1.

LIGHT

Dancing streaks of sunlight,
flickering groovy shades,
focusing in on nature,

Steven Bliss, 3D.

You are waiting in a trench
Waiting for something or someone to come with news
But what news — good or bad?
And if you so much as speak
you might attract attention or might the sound of a dead man groaning
answer you you back?
Are you the only one left?

John Tate, 4M.

You came to me when I was young only still a baby
You brought happiness and love
into a small child's heart
So kind and gentle and understanding
You helped me in every way
But now you're gone and who will understand
A teenage girl trying to grow up in a modern world
all by herself?

Moira Sharvin, 4M.

I climbed daringly up the precarious hanging ladder, the steel rims of the rungs searing my skin. I fumbled around, then planted my foot carefully on the highest bar. My right hand erected itself onto the edge of the platform and I, like a fugitive, slunk onto the platform. I slowly heaved myself onto the ledge. As I stood up I looked over into the larger pool and watched as the crowds milled carelessly about. Then I turned and faced the people swimming below me, who stared and glared horribly like 'dracula's monsters' getting ready for the kill. I was frightened; the people menacingly tormented and kids behind me callously shouted the "hurry up". I looked down at the swirling water and I felt faintly dizzy. I slithered half way down the slippery, oblique slide. Could I do it? Yes! I bravely fought to stand up and as if I was riding a skateboard slid rapidly into the rapturous water.

A HAUNTING EXPERIENCE

The badly rusted hinges finally gave way to my continuous pushing, and with a whine, the wobbly door squeezed open. I glanced cautiously around the lounge area, old, and furnished with tattered dull drapes, a faded unstuffed settee and numerous cobwebs.

With my first step, and another cautious dance, I clutched an old mantelpiece to the right and eased myself away from the doorway. Brushing the cobwebs from my face I walked over the wooden floor, which creaked with my every step.

Pausing for a moment, I heard a sound not unlike human breathing, but I knew that it was not. Crouching down, my eyes trying to penetrate the darkness, I heard footsteps stealthily drawing towards me — then with one short leap it landed in my now extended arms.

Cats may not mind the dark — after all they can see in it, but with me, well — it's a different story, and I for one was glad that my search was over — for tonight anyway.

Susan Everson, 3D.

THE GODS

They stand alone, grey temples on a distant wind,
Symbols in running pathways, of strength:
Of stooping power they yield.
Life has left them bygone to a binding riot
And we love them all.
In stark black images
Receding in a foreign earth,
They cry for recognition,
To the white mists of loneliness
Forsaken, they crumble
In an empty world.

Bernadette Jennings, 6A.

COBWEBS

Tangled masses of insects' ropes,
Tying up spiders' prey,
Hindering strangers walking by,
Stopping children's play.
Sticky, hanging, drooping twine,
Catching clothing fast,
Bringing spiders from their dens,
Hurrying if they're last.
Racing along the lines of thread,
Finding intruders destroyers of life,
Who break up their little well-spun nests,
Bringing hunger, grief, and strife.

Margaret Arthern, 3D.

Dusty silence lies in shallow rimmed hollows.
White heat crumples a widow's face
And the worn quiet sits in fat pools upon the red earth.

A pale man straggles by
And heat waves click across a distant pavement,
While sweated pools are drunk by the sodden air.
There in a quiet shallow,
Resting in tranquil embers of a drunken day
Sits, in shrivelled farce,
A crumpled man.

He cries — in red agony, and remembers the lands of wind swept mists

Far —
Begone in empty aeons,
He flounders in a petty wilderness,
His agonies rendered to the embalmed wastes of man,
Are lost to pale memories,
Which lie in the ashen grey:
Of a dying sun
And he loses all mirth to lost humanity.

Bernadette Jennings, 6A.

RAIN

Raindrops spattering down, make tiny crowns as they hit the concrete
Thin rivulets of water trace silvery patterns down
the window panes
Then the sun comes out from behind a cloud and I see a cobweb hanging from a gently swaying branch
In its shining threads are caught hundreds of tiny jewels glistening softly as they reflect the weak sun.

WARFARE

The ear-thrashing whine of endless gunfire piercing undauntedly the hearts of the innocent,
Crashing-throbbing-drumming, tactlessly.
But why?
To unmercifully sever the flesh and hearts of our brothers in thought?

A. Wells, 3A.

ANGER

Anger is a fire,
Ignited by the stinging sparks of words;
Its flames devouring heart,
Its smoke blinding judgement,
Fed by the fuel of the moment.
Anger is a fire,
Spread by the changing wind of impulse,
Destroying the forests of wisdom;
Unchecked by streams of experience,
Leaving the blackened ruins of regret.

L. Richards, 4B.

PARALYSED

He sits there,
silent,
musing,
his thoughts far away in a land where no one laughs at a helpless,
useless,
paralysed body.
The fools
in schools
sit like mutes
in rows according to the rules;
they look like tools
those silent fools.

D. Holdaway, 3A.

FROST

I looked out of my window at the new morning
There wasn't a cloud in the sky and everything was frosty-clear
In the frosty grass near the fence there was a foot-print
Someone had already disturbed this cold and glittering world.

J. Isbister, 4B.

SPRING

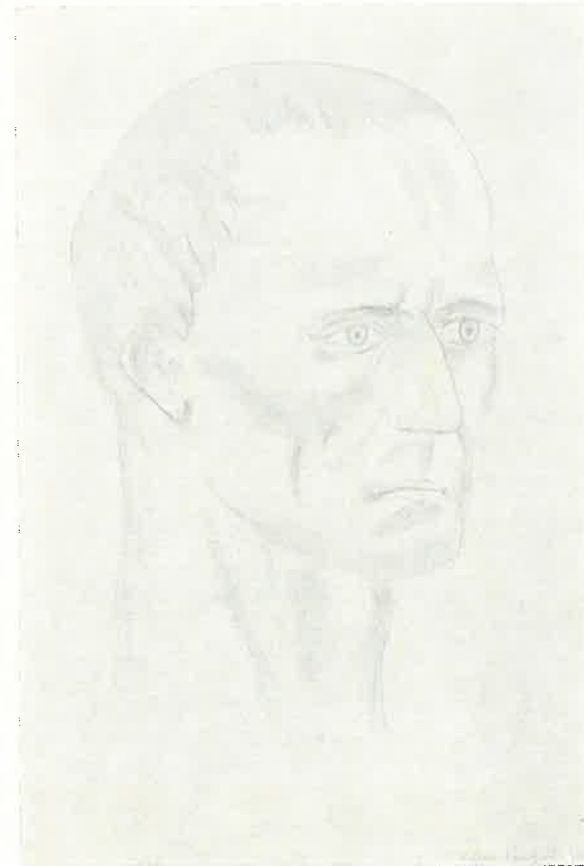

Candy-floss trees
and daffodil hills,
On the high blossom seas
a nightingale trills.
Diamond strung grass
and honeysuckle lawn
Silver trinkets of dew
and spring is born.

Michelle Blythen, 3D.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Life is but a farce in the eyes of men who weep,
Who lead in drudgery, a life of sorrow,
Slaves to a rising-dying world:
A world so blue in its fear-rippled reflections.
Fear creeping in a petty age;
Of bombs and death cries;
Of tears and passion;
Of pain;
Terror is beheld.

EARLY I FLEW

Early on a midnight plane,
I flew with due precision,
When in my mirror I did see,
A gun which blocked my vision.
I knew the time had come for me
To go to Cuba; not to see
The sights, but just go for the ride,
With Castro's buddy by my side.

John Nesbitt, 3A.

GALES

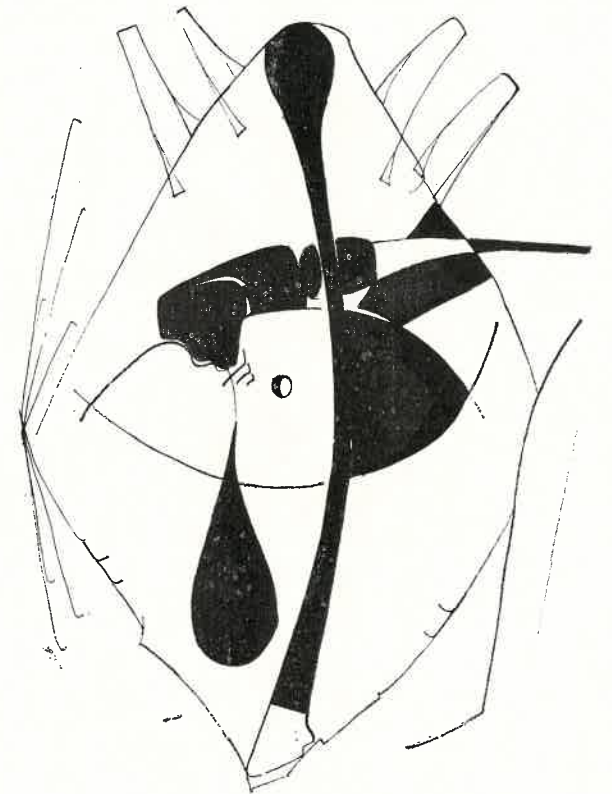

Thunder rumbles in threatening growls
And lightning shudders in an instant,
The boat pitches to the beacon of the sea
And the howling gale hurtles high.
A savage splurt of blinding spray
And all is lost
In a riding crest of foam.

Michelle Blythen, 3D.

THE SEA, THE BOAT AND ME

There are two boats to me
one bold
one giving in to the sea's ripples
That sifting, salty sea mockingly splashing
the darkening sides of my boats.
But there's only one
For the other is its sad image
which is tormented.
A boat on a vast sea stretching for miles
and nowhere to go!
Not even a rock, or me.
I've gone to see the other side of the hill.

ATHLETICS

While we did not have the overwhelming successes recorded in 1968, 1969 was a good year for Rutherford boys though perhaps not for the girls.

The School Sports were as usual most enjoyable, with the boys breaking seven records and the girls six. A mere handful of boys went to Pukekohe but made their presence felt. We ran out easy winners in the Western Zone and were fourth (unofficially) in the Champion's meeting. At Mt. Smart the girls gained placings but did not do as well as we hoped. However, the Junior Cross Country team ran magnificently to gain 3rd place in the A grade and the Relays team was 6th, but only one point behind 4th in the A Grade Relays.

Nevertheless, athletes helping to compile this article strongly expressed the view that too many of our school's representatives thought that they could rely on their natural ability and just a little (sometimes private) training, but were obviously and rather painfully disillusioned when faced with top line competition from athletes who had prepared themselves properly. Undoubtedly, those who train regularly on a proper schedule for months rather than weeks prior to the big day have demonstrated that they get the greatest enjoyment as well as the most success. Small unofficial inter-school meetings have been requested which would provide much interest and enjoyment if difficulties of arrangement can be overcome.

SCHOOL SPORTS

After much striving lunch-time after lunch-time, those of pace, power and prowess emerged from the preliminaries to give us the thrills on the fast track and field areas so intensively prepared (by Mr Upton-Smith in particular).

Honours were usually well spread. In the Senior Girls' competition Louise Pook, Jill Haven and Leigh Muller, each won a flat race, but Louise was ahead overall and in the Senior Boys' there was a terrific tussle between Mike Smith (the eventual winner) and Arthur Hosking, while Don Morris edged out a number of others for 3rd.

Sheryl Creamer was clearly the fastest Intermediate girl, followed in each race by Sandra Spooner, but other honours were widely shared. The versatile Dennis Williams was clearly ahead of an injury-restricted Rota Carrington and the 1968 Junior champion Jeff McCullough. With the very prominent junior Carol Stainton suffering a hurt ankle after adding one foot to the long jump record, Leanne Heald went into a clear lead from her and Mina, the mighty putter, while on the boys side we had the spectacle of Royce Kelly unbeatable in no less than five events, with John Nesbitt (also an all rounder) and Chris Lawrence taking the minor placings.

Bryant Memorial Meeting

It is a pity that only a few availed themselves of the opportunity of competing in this wonderful Pukekohe meeting where half the North Island is represented. New Plymouth Boys High School, Tauranga College and Hamilton schools almost dominated the meeting, but Rota Carrington, Dennis Williams and Chris Lawrence gained placings and Michael Smith a creditable fourth.

Western Zone Meeting

Rutherford had an exciting day at Henderson with some boys showing unexpected talent, e.g., Fife, Young and Lawrence. Royce Kelly ran seven races for three firsts and a second in finals and Rota Carrington broke the 28-year-old 100 yards Intermediate record. The day finished on a high note for Rutherford when all three relay teams carried a place in the Mount Smart line-up.

The overall points total was:

Rutherford High School 143, Kelston Boys High School 123, Mount Roskill Grammar School 89.

Results: (These were given down to fifth place, but only three places qualified for the Champion of Champions meeting.)

Mt Smart: Champion of Champions

Here the standard was as usual, extremely high and it was noticeable that it was only those who had put in really solid training over a fairly long period came through. The bus-load and car-transported, vocally strong supporters of Rutherford were on their feet for Rota Carrington's outstanding performances — another tenth of a second off his recently established 100 yds record, a cracking 220 yds and a great run in the relay although we had to hand the last mentioned to Auckland Grammar School who smashed the record by 1.2s or 11 yds.

The following made it to the finals:

Seniors: Smith, 2nd in Discus, 3rd in Shot Put. Hosking, third in Triple Jump (despite defeating previous year's record breaker).

Intermediates: Williams, Fourth in Shot Put, Discus. Carrington, First in 100yds, 10.2s., 220yds, 22.9s. Relay Team, Second.

Juniors: Kelly, Fourth in 440yds, Sixth in 100 yds. Relay Team, Fourth.

This year, placings were shared out amongst 27 schools, so our fourth to Auckland Grammar School, Kings College and Takapuna Grammar School was quite pleasing.

Girls' Inter-Secondary Sports

We seemed to be somewhat lacking in talent this year except in Shot Put. However, these girls distinguished themselves in heats or finals:

Seniors: Jill Haven, 220 yds; Susan Wood, 440 yds (6th); Yvonne Woods, Shot Put (3rd).

Intermediates: Relay Team: Sheryl Creamer, 150 yds (4th) and 100 yds; Gloria Meads, High Jump; Pauline Robinson, Shot Put (2nd).

Juniors: Raewyn Wyllie, 75 yds and 100 yds; Sharon Sharman, Long Jump; Mina Lundon, Shot Put (3rd).

Boys Steeplechase

The School Championship which was managed almost entirely by pupils at mid-term this year and over a longer course for Intermediates (four laps) and Seniors (five laps). After being postponed for bad weather it was run in reasonable conditions but surprisingly few took part. Honours went to:

Senior: C. Atchison, 24m 27s.

Intermediate: P. Connolly, 19m 6s.

Junior: H. Morrison, 14m 21s.

Morrison ran with an arm in plaster.

House Points: Batten 1st, Lovelock and Wilding 2nd equal.

Road Race

In round figures 150 girls and 200 boys took part in this year's Road Race — the boys on the same course as previously and the girls on a different, slightly shorter course. Again the race was manned almost entirely by pupils. Records were broken by H. Morrison in the Juniors race (S. Taylor was very close behind) and P. Connolly in the Intermediates race.

Results:

Senior: A. Watt, 1 (20m 18s); C. Atchison 2; B. Cook 3; R. Robertson 4; K. Bentley 5; W. Mays 6; K. Morris 7; S. Henderson 8; D. Morris 9; L. Cherrie 10.

Intermediate: P. Connolly 1 (20m 6.1s); G. Bentley 2; B. Scott 3; G. Howarth 4; K. Claydon 5; M. Jones 6; G. Hays 7; R. Haven 8; N. Mason 9; D. Longville 10.

Junior: H. Morrison 1 (16m 5s); S. Taylor 2; D. Craig 3; R. Kelly 4; B. Hughes 5; T. Quedley 6; W. Annan 7; D. Verner 8; D. Rickett 9; G. Elliot 10.

A form competition was held with points for entry and for placings down to 10th.

Results:

6th Forms — 6B8 1st; 6B5 2nd; 6A2 3rd.
5th Forms: 5M1 1st; 5M9 2nd; 5E5 3rd.
4th Forms: 4J 1st; 4F 2nd; 4D 3rd (4A 3rd equal on number in form).

3rd Forms: 3E 1st; 3D 2nd; 3B 3rd.

Girls: All girls ran over the 1-1/3 mile (approx.) course during physical Education lessons; some did further training and most ran very hard on the day.

Results:

5th and 6th Form:
K. Bew 1 (10m 10s), B. England 2, H. Henderson 3, J. Haven 4, D. Robinson 5, J. Clegg 6, B. Lemmens 7, D. Mullins 8, M. Bragg 9, M. Peters 10.

4th Form: S. Hayward 1 (9m 40s), P. Livermore 2, K. Williams 3, J. Slatter 4, M. Dickens 5, T. Billing 6, J. Taylor 7, R. Holmes 8, K. Wilson 9, M. Lemon 10.

3rd Form: B. Niven 1, S. Brown 2, V. Jury 3, A. Sharp 4, A. Wells 5, A. Harvey 6, V. Yelas 7, L. Stoupe 8, P. Stevenson 9, L. Booth 10.

Inter-Secondary Cross Country

Some of the above boys had been training hard all winter and these formed the nucleus of our Junior and Intermediate teams. Again a run of over seven miles to Blockhouse Bay, was held and those who braved the elements enjoyed refreshments and a talk from Mr Roy Williams and Fernandez. As was the case last year it was difficult finding boys for a Senior team who had done even a modicum of training, but after a run over the Takapuna course three teams were selected and took the field on October 4th. The first four seniors home were Watt, Martin, Bentley and Coop, but their placings were not good.

The Intermediate team did well coming fifth in the B Grade with Connolly, Claydon, G. Bentley and Scott coming in that order. The Juniors, however, surprised with a most outstanding performance in the A Grade. Taylor 6th, Morrison 12th, Craig 18th and Hughes 46th made up a total of 82 which gave them third place overall.

The Takapuna course proved to be a good one and will probably be used again.

Inter-Secondary Relays

October 18th was a big day for Rutherford as we had to run Auckland Inter-secondary School A Grade Relays. Mr Upton-Smith put in long hours mowing and rolling the ground until it must have been one of the fastest tracks ever. The day dawned coming fine after overnight rain, but unfortunately a strong cold wind made record breaking a near impossibility. However, such was the keenness and talent of the competing schools that three records were broken and others nearly broken.

In the first year in the fierce competition of a purely A Grade meeting our boys did very well to gain 75 points — only one point behind fourth place. This was specially meritorious in that they had to look after themselves, the masters being fully occupied with the running of the meeting.

Our seniors did well in Shot Put and quite well in the 4 x 110 and 4 x 440, but found the going tough, especially those who, because of exams, etc., had done no training.

Under Rota Carrington's leadership Intermediate sprint team trained hard and duly broke the 4 x 110 yds record as expected but so did Auckland Grammar School (by 1.2s) and Kings College (by 1/8s). Our boys were also third in the Shot Put (where Kings were within 2 in. of the record 121ft 8in) and were fourth but quite close in both the record breaking 4 x 200 yds and Medley Relay races. Overall the Intermediates were fifth.

But our Junior team showed all round strength with a first in the 4 x 880 yds, second in the 4 x 440 yds, third in the 4 x 220 yds, fourth in the 4 x 110 yds and sixth in the Hurdles, making them third overall, well ahead of the next school. Lawrence, Kelly, Morrison and Taylor did some magnificent runs but their efforts would have been of little use without the solid backing of their team mates. A really great effort Juniors!

Altogether the day was a great success and received much favourable comment. Our thanks are due to those who worked so hard to this end, for instance, the boys on ground marking, boys and girls who helped on the day — all who showed lots of school spirit.

Finally, we must congratulate Kings College and Auckland Grammar School on fielding two magnificent teams and all the schools who competed in such keen but friendly manner.

RUGBY

The 1969 First XV never fulfilled the potential which was evident in the early season practice games. This was doubtless due to the loss of many experienced players during the season, either through injury or by leaving school. The team endeavoured to play open rugby with emphasis on attack throughout the season and were generally successful in this endeavour. A lack of cohesion and will-to-win was sometimes evident but overall the team enjoyed the season's games. Three boys were selected to play in the trials for the Auckland Secondary Schools Rugby team. They were R. Carrington, L. Sinton and M. Smith. The team would like to express its thanks to coach Mr McGrath, who is undoubtedly an older and wiser man as a result of this experience, to the parents and friends who loyally supported the team, and especially to the girls who prepared and served afternoon tea for each home game.

Results: Marcellin College, won 24-9; Papatoetoe High, lost 5-12; Henderson High, won 27-3; Takapuna Grammar, lost 3-14; Kelston Boys High lost 0-25; St. Peters Maori C., lost 6-19; Northcote College, lost 14-17; Rangitoto College, won 12-9; Selwyn College, lost 5-15; Glendowie College, lost 0-10; Avondale College, drew 14-14; Papakura High, won 9-3.

SECOND XV

This year the team was coached by Mr Dowling; and it is due to his encouragement and advice that we did so well, finishing second in the competition.

We played ten games in all, winning seven and losing three. The team amassed a total of 195 points with only 51 points being scored against us. Highest point scorer was our Captain, Stewart Henderson, with everyone in the team scoring points.

The forward pack played consistently well, being supported by the backs who, on occasion, suffered with slippery fingers when handling the ball; but back line play was generally of a good standard.

Due to absences in the first XV, some of our regular players were required to fill the gaps, as the season progressed the team became more used to this and realised this was the 2nd XV's duty. The team consisted of:

S. Henderson (captain), D. Young, G. Stacey, P. Skrine, P. Young, S. Jerebine, G. Fife, M. Martin, B. Houghton, A. Armstrong, K. Holden, T. Davis, M. James, G. Cosgrove, G. Mays. Reserve: D. Williams.

THIRD GRADE

The team had a very successful season, winning ten out of twelve games, and scoring 201 points with only 30 points scored against. After winning the zone competition, we met Kings in the interzone semifinal, and lost a hard-fought game 6-3. The backs were always dangerous, and in the latter part of the season the forwards developed into a strong pack. Gordon Raddock was top try scorer, with his best performances against Lynfield and Avondale, getting four tries in each game. Jim Turnbull added many points with his boot, and Colin McConnochie led the team well and dictated the play from halfback. Garth Glogoski proved his elusiveness time and time again, and the rest of the backs all played well. The forwards concentrated on winning clean ball for the backs, but when required by wet grounds to keep the ball with them they controlled it well.

Team: C. McConnochie (captain), L. Perry (vice captain), D. Astwood, P. Connolly, J. D'Anvers, G. Glogoski, G. Morris, R. Page, M. Raines, B. Reiher, K. Sanders, J. Smith, R. Taylor, A. Trevithick, J. Turnbull, M. Wilkinson, G. Raddock, M. Hill, P. Trengrove, Mr I. L. Milne (coach).

Fourth Grade (B)

The season was quite successful with four wins, three draws and four lost games.

The most exciting game was against Avondale College. We led 8-0 at half time but Avondale ran up seventeen points in the second half. With about five minutes to the final whistle we scored two quick converted tries and led 18-17, but Avondale stormed back to score in the last seconds of the game and won 22-18.

Our thanks to Mr Douglass for his time and efforts and to the parents who helped with transport and encouragement.

Fifth Grade

Although the record was poor, many of the games were closely fought, the decision going against the team by the odd try; had both the backs and the forwards combined and played up to their potential many games would have been won. No player distinguished himself, all being members of a enthusiastic and keen side.

All team members wish to thank the large numbers of parents who gave up their Saturday mornings to support them.

Played 11, Won 3, Lost 7, Drew 1,
For: 54; Against: 72.

Sixth Grade

This year's team had moderate success in its own zone, having at least one victory over each other team but one, the exception being Henderson High School. Games were played with a view to enjoyment rather than the production of first class rugby, and such successes as there were resulted from individual excellence rather than from teamwork. The lack of unity as a team was a predominant weakness during the season and was partly the result of the failure of some members to take practices and training very seriously. Nevertheless, those who participated with a will had some memorable and enjoyable games. One or two games, especially the second game against Kelston, were very keenly contested. J. Baker was a splendid captain, and by the consistent quality of his own play gave fine leadership to the others.

Results: Played 9; Won 4; Lost 5.

BASKETBALL TEAM II

Back Row: Jennifer Moorehead, Helen Kelly.
Front Row: Diane Shelford, Kay Yelavich, Sandra Spooner.
Absent: Raewyn Berridge, Carol Stainton.

TEAM ONE

Our team this year was placed in the A Grade section. Keenly fought competitions resulted and through the combined effort of excellent play by all members and a good team spirit we were able to gain third placing in our section.

The highlights of the season were the defeat of the well noted teams of Epsom and Auckland Girls Grammar Schools and our game against the staff, which was keenly contested.

Our thanks go to our coach Miss Holden without whose help we would not have been so successful, and our sideline supporters, especially Miss Corston.

Results: Won 6; Drawn 1; Lost 2.

Team: Jill Haven (captain), Susan Chambers, Diane Mullins, Shelley Barr, Louise Pook, Pamela Holmes, Pauline Furrell.

TEAM TWO

Team Two played in the Senior Reserve, Section 2, and had a fairly successful season, winning six out of nine games. As most of the members of this team are returning next year, the prospects for the next season are good.

Team: Sandra Spooner, Raewyn Berridge, Jennifer Moorhead, Dianne Shelford, Kay Yelavich (captain), Carol Stainton.

TEAM THREE

This team had a most enjoyable season, winning the majority of games played. Our thanks to the coach, Miss Abbott.

Team: Mina Lundon (captain), Leonie Anderson, Susan Wain, Cherie Pook, Diane Robertson, Delwyn Taylor, Charmaine Robinson.

TEAM FOUR

Team Four played well throughout the season, and maintained a very good standard. The team is grateful for the help of Miss Abbott, the coach.

Team: Sheryl Hall (captain), Sherry Simpson, Lynnette Knowles, Charmaine Reid, Glenda Strawbridge, Raewyn Knowles, Vivian Nolan, Nicola Webster.

TEAM FIVE

Although our team did not have a very successful season, team spirit remained fairly high throughout the year.

Our thanks go to Miss Hansen, our coach, for constant training and encouragement.

Team: Alison McKeown (captain), Kay Lambdon, Delores Lockwood, Megan Williams, Marion Verryt, Lynne Bawden and Sheila Trefunovic.

TEAM SIX

The team played with a good spirit even though the wins were few. The team would like to thank Miss Hansen for her constant support and coaching.

Team: Sheryl Creamer (captain), Theresa Devoy, Pat Wright, Jackie Butterfield, Shirley Smith, Elizabeth Mackinnon. Reserves: Pauline Stewart, Gaewyn Boler.

TEAM SEVEN

Team Seven won eight of their games, lost won and drew one. Through the season the girls enjoyed their matches and because of the coaching received from Miss Murray, they improved the standard of their play and sportsmanship. We would like to offer her our thanks.

Team: Zlata Dunatov, Carol Hood, Janice Armstrong, Judy McKenzie, Nancy Barker, Libby Rego, Pat Matthews, Carole Richards, Ruth Williams.

TEAM EIGHT

We played eight games overall, and of these we won about half.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to Miss Murray, our coach, who helped and encouraged us throughout the season.

Team: Gloria Patterson (vice captain), Kathie Hills, Kay Borich, Diana Levy (captain), Denise Worrall, Judy Wells, Carol Richards, Robyn Holmes.

TEAM TEN

We did not have a very successful year, although all the girls enjoyed the season's games.

Team: Julie Smith, Veronica Jury, Kathryn Beattie, Pat Dunn, Patricia O'Neill, Susan Howarth, Donna Hadwin. Our thanks are offered to Miss McKenzie, the coach.

SOCCERFIRST XI TEAM

This year the First XI Soccer team, was promoted from the Senior B grade into the Senior A, and the games in this grade were of a higher standard.

The team worked very hard and played the best football they could produce at all times. They were justly rewarded by finishing fourth in the competition and were a little unlucky not to do better.

The game which the team went to see at Newmarket Park, played between the English visiting XI and the New Zealand XI, gave us a few more valuable ideas, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who saw it.

The teams thanks go to the coach, Mr Harold, for the time he gave up for coaching us and his encouragement. We would also like to thank the groundsman Mr Upton-Smith, for keeping the ground in immaculate order.

JUNIOR A and B SOCCER

Coach-managers: Mr P. Plummer and Mr R. Bendall.

The weather this year was much better during the winter sport season, enabling most games set down to be played. However, sports practices held during lunch hours were often cancelled, and this factor was often apparent during games in the lack of cohesion and teamwork. Unfortunately too, a number of players failed to turn up regularly for practices, making it difficult for coaches to select teams.

Junior A

Eight games were played and results were: won 3, lost 5. Most games were closely scored, shown by the goal average of 21 for and 15 against. Of particular note were the two "hat tricks" scored by R. Marshall during the season.

Team members: J. Tinling (captain), N. Carter (vice-captain), R. Marshall, D. Chambers, M. Keswick, W. Thompson, R. Harre, L. Berry, T. Lockyer, R. Plumb.

Junior B

Twelve games were played and results were: won 4, drawn 1, lost 7. Some of these losses were caused through the team having to take the field one and even two players short on occasions. As with the A team, goal averages were better than results indicated, the score being 29 for and 23 against.

Team members: J. Paskeloff (captain), R. Keswick (vice-captain), J. Forder, C. May, S. Bishop, I. Wilson, D. Niven, J. Fitzgerald, R. Milne, A. Ercerg, P. Tunnage, I. McKay.

BOYS' FIRST XI HOCKEY

Back Row: A. Levy, R. Willis, Mr Sinclair, D. Bruns, B. Kerr.

Front Row: G. Nicholson, C. Paton, J. Davies (Capt.), R. Young, B. Jennings.

Absent: T. Dwyer, I. Halliwell, A. Moody, A. Taylor, A. Webster.

HOCKEY

FIRST XI

The season this year was not too successful, but much experience was gained during the year where the team tried to make full use of Mr Sinclair's coaching, with Mr Lash also helping wherever he could. In the first week of the August holidays thirteen players went down to Taupo to play some of the national school teams. In this competition the team gained a final position of sixth. Although the Second XI had to be disbanded we are looking forward to some promising players. After the Taupo trip, B. Jennings (goalie) received the honour of being picked for the tournament representative team.

SECOND XI

The Second XI was entered in the Intermediate competition and enjoyed moderate success, finishing sixth. However, three games were won by default, with a further game being cancelled.

The team wish to thank the coach, Mr Martin, and all those who helped with transport.

Results: Played 9, Won 4, Drew 1, Lost 4.

Team: A. Douglas (captain), S. Franklin, C. Cambridge, P. Noble, G. Willson, C. Olsen, C. Lawrence, G. Shekell, Fynn, M. Hassett, T. Gill (vice captain), I. Cox, P. Shakespeare, C. Ginders, M. Rassie.

4A TEAM

This season our team very nearly created a record (which was not to be) since in the last game played a unique goal was scored. At the beginning of the season, as new players, we took a few matches to find out what hockey was all about but gradually our field play improved and after being joined by some of the boys from the disbanded third grade team, we finished the season playing well as a team. Our opponents, however, always seemed to play better so that we built up quite an impressive array of losses — not a very encouraging state of affairs. Our solitary goal for the season was scored in the last game, thus indicating that we improved towards the end. Our coach, Mr Morton, spent a great deal of time with us and we wish to thank him for this. Our thanks also to the parents who assisted with transport.

We look forward to a much more successful season next year.

Results: Played 9; Lost 9.

Team: M. Rassie (captain), S. Bliss, R. Cameron, H. Dormer, S. Griffiths, G. Herkt, K. Kerr, G. Leask, S. Matheson, K. Morris, B. Robinson, W. Robinson, M. Stillman, A. Wiley, S. Wiltshier.

GIRLS' FIRST XI HOCKEY

Back Row: Gail Oliver, Maureen Bulcraig, Mrs Evans, Annette Chetwynd, Brenda England.

Front Row: Marilynne Bond, Karen Murray, Leigh Muller, Janet Russell (Capt.), Rosemary Adams, Christine Strother, Judy Carr.

GIRLS HOCKEY

The First XI Hockey Team have again had an extremely successful season with the loss of only one game.

Two of our members were selected to play in the trials for the Auckland Secondary Representative Team to play Taranaki in August. Janet Russell was successful in securing a place in the Auckland C Grade Team and Leigh Muller gained a place as a reserve.

Our team is indebted to our coach Mrs Evans, who devoted much of her time to coach us. She has coached the First XI teams for the last three seasons and her valuable advice will be missed next year.

Our sincere thanks also to our regular supporters who spurred us on throughout the season. Results: Games played, 10; Won, 7; drawn, 2; lost, 1.

The team is therefore first equal with Henderson in Division 1 of the Open B Grade.

SECOND XI

The second eleven this year played in the open C grade in which they had moderate success. A good deal of shifting among the players made it difficult for the team to achieve any amount of unity. However, those who supported the team did their best to have a satisfying game each Saturday.

Results: Played, 10; Won, 4; Lost, 5; Drew, 1.

BEGINNERS TEAM

This team proved to be 'beginner' in name only. Throughout the season they played thirteen competition games, winning all of them, many by large margins. The team rose to these heights because of their enthusiasm and willingness to practice regularly, despite poor weather conditions. Once on the field they demonstrated a readiness to give everything to the task ahead, often scoring in the first few minutes and so disrupting the balance of the opposition. The future for many of these players looks bright.

Team: Kirsty Morton (captain), Sheryl Royal (vice captain), Wendy Strid, Marie Manifold, Evelyn Hall, Kathy Dwyer, Diane King, Linda Piercy, Cathy Wilson, Donna Bassett Yvonne Webb.

GYMNASTICS

BOYS GYMNASTICS

Owing to some hard work by members as well as some thorough coaching by Mr Evans and Mr Jenkins, our boys gymnastic team was placed first in the Auckland Secondary School Boys Championships. Greg Shanaghan was also placed second in the individual competition.

Team: G. Shanaghan (captain), B. Reiher, R. Moore, D. Moore, N. Mason.

Earlier this year Greg and David were chosen for the Auckland A grade teams for the New Zealand Schools Gymnastics Championships. Greg's team was placed second in the A section and David captained the winning B Section team. David was also placed second in the individual points.

GIRLS GYMNASTICS

Although unplaced, the Girls Gymnastics team improved on last year's performance in the B Grade Secondary Schools Gymnastics Competition which was held on Friday, October 3rd, at the Y.M.C.A.

Members of the team were: Susan Wain, Marion Watson, Heather Henderson, and Christine O'Connell.

Our thanks go to Miss Holden for her effort and time put into helping us to attain this standard.

FIRST XI

First Half of 1969 Season

The First XI, after a bad season in 1968, is playing in the 1C grade. The 1969 team consists largely of young players.

v. Marcellin College: The first day was washed out and there was no play. On the second and final day, Rutherford scored 88 in their first innings. (J. Turnbull 25, G. Rudolph 21). Marcellin batted and declared at 104 for 9 wickets. (G. Rudolph 3 for 9, P. Hay 3 for 39). Marcellin won on first innings.

v. Lynfield College: Rutherford batted and made 147 runs (J. Turnbull 37, S. Henderson 23). Lynfield batted and made 120 runs (Rudolph 4 for 22.) Rutherford made 81 in their second innings. Lynfield in their second innings made 97 runs (Rudolph 6 for 36.) Rutherford won outright — Rutherford's first win for one and a half years!

v. A.G.S.: Rutherford batted first and made 122 runs, (P. Hay 48, I. Hay 41.) Grammar batted and were 9 for 115 but went on to make 143.

Rutherford batted and made 92 runs. (I. Hay 45.) Grammar were four wickets down when they overhauled Rutherford's total. Outright loss for Rutherford.

Sincere thanks from the team go to Mr Hathaway our coach, who has devoted much time to us. Also thanks to Mr Upton-Smith, the groundsman for our wickets. Rutherford lies second equal at this stage of the season.

The team: P. Hay (captain), J. Turnbull (vice captain), J. Knappstein, K. Cox, S. Henderson, G. Rudolph, I. Hay, G. Glogoski, B. Reilly, G. Raddock, G. Morris, R. Moore.

SECOND XI

At time of writing this team is second equal in their competition having won 2 and lost 1 — this being only by 20 runs. This is a pleasing result for a team whose enthusiasm and attendance at practices make up for any basic skills they lack. Provided the team does not lose too many of its players it should improve on its position in the competition.

The team was promoted to the 1st Grade at the beginning of the year and proved themselves capable of playing in this higher grade by winning all their games. The team would like to thank Mr Sinclair for the time he gave up to coach them and for his encouragement during the games. Thanks also go to Miss Pountney, Mrs Williams, Miss Verrall and Mr Lash for the time they spent in helping the team.

GIRLS SENIOR TENNIS TEAM

The Senior Team had a reasonably successful season winning six out of the ten games played. Our losses may perhaps be attributed to the fact that the team suffered many changes because of the unavailability of players at various times. Nevertheless, the girls who played enjoyed their games, and we would like to thank Miss Prisk for her encouragement and interest in our team.

GIRLS' INTERMEDIATE A1

Owing to several misfortunes at the beginning of the season, the Intermediate Girls' team did not manage to retain last year's honour of first placing, although games were enjoyed.

Thanks go to our coach Miss Chan for the time she has given us and also to the parents for providing transport.

Team: Raewyn Berridge, Shelley Barr, Annette Kivell, Karen Kivell, Michelle Dee, Dianne Robertson. Reserve, Jacque Burnett.

JUNIOR GIRLS' TENNIS

The team has won three matches and lost one. Most of the girls enjoyed the games we had against different schools, and through the season with determination, the team established a better standard of play. We would like to thank our coach, Miss Hart, for the interest she has shown and the time she has given.

Senior boys — Won 7, Lost 3.
 Junior boys — Won 8, Lost 2.

Mr Dowling feels that owing to the enthusiasm shown this year and all the extra practice put in, a firm basis has been established for an A Grade team.

GIRLS' INDOOR BASKETBALL

Girls' Indoor Basketball began for the first time this year. There was a great response and this resulted in the formation of two competition teams. These were entered in an inter-school competition at the YMCA on Friday evenings throughout the second term. Although they were not altogether victorious, a good team spirit prevailed and everyone was very keen. Saturday morning practices in the new gym kept the teams in trim (many thanks here to Mr Soliafu) and on the Monday of Queen's Birthday weekend in an all-day tournament a combined team played with spirit, although unsuccessful. A series of "knock-out" games ended the season and in spite of not being high on points it was generally agreed the new blue and white uniform scored the teams for appearance. U.S.A. ASSOCIATIONS

Two members of the upper sixth form this year left New Zealand to study in the U.S.A. On August 2, Pierre Beautrais set off for Berlin, Wisconsin, to study at Berlin High School on an American Field Service Scholarship. Pierre's new school is smaller than Rutherford, and his subjects are: Biology, Physics, English, Advanced Composition, and Maths. Pierre finds the level of study not as advanced as in New Zealand. Sports played at Berlin are Soccer, Hockey, Gridiron, and Basketball; and Pierre is introducing the locals to Rugby. He will return to N.Z. in August, 1970.

In September, Colin Herring left to take up a four-year swimming scholarship at the State University, Alabama. There he had to pass a test equivalent to our U.E. exam, and gained a mark of 25 — the pass mark is 19 plus, and the average at the University is 22. His subjects are: English Composition, Maths, Chemistry, and Psychology. At the time of writing his progress in swimming is pleasing his coach, but he has not taken part in competitive events. He is taking an Engineering Course, and is staying at Pappy House, one of the Halls of Residence.

Dave Abbattista is an American High School boy from Ithaca, N.Y., about 300 miles from New York City. He is one of forty young people chosen by the Rotary Club in his district to participate in a Rotary exchange programme, and the others in the group are scattered over the globe until late next year. Dave is at present staying with Mark Hill of 6B2, and next year will attend Henderson High School.
