Valedictory

When school opens next February Rutherford just won't be the same - Miss Corston will have left us to begin a very important job as Principal of Kelston Girls' High School. Miss Corston was a foundation member of staff and during the past fifteen years she has welcomed six or seven thousand pupils and several hundred teachers to Rutherford.

Her teaching has been mainly with senior pupils in history and social life. As seventh form dean she has come into close contact with this august section of our school but her influence has been with all of our pupils.

There is not enough room in this magazine to list all Miss Corston's activities at school or to extol her virtues. All who have known her will have appreciated the particular contribution she has made to their education in its widest sense. It is significant that whenever old pupils return to school they invariably drop in for a chat with Miss Corston.

Even when it is necessary for her to discipline pupils, almost always they appreciate her fairness and the fact that she has their best interests at heart.

This year is Women's International Year - it has made no impact at Rutherford. Because of Miss Corston's influence Rutherford has always been a coeducational school in the fullest meaning of the word - girls have at all times enjoyed equal status and the number of women staff have balanced the men.

We say goodbye to her with sorrowful hearts but rejoice with Kelston in their good fortune in gaining a Principal with lots of first class ideas and a progressive philosophy of education.

POLYNESIAN CLUB 1975

What a start to the year!!!

Regular lunch time concerts at the schools in our area.

Purpose? To donate to the Fire Replacement Fund.

Under the tutorship of the Master himself, Mr Peter Sharples, our club reached quite a standard - even though we say it ourselves!!! Mind you, many after school practices were necessary.

Our trip to the Te Tii Marae organised by Mr Roberts was a highlight.

Being part of the farewell scene for the "Dragons" pop group wasn't the thrill we had hoped for. Financially though it was fine. We have also participated in the current John Waititi Memorial Marae Fund raising the Marathon and raising $1200 for the Queen Carnival. Mrs Mariu says our efforts are "Real Neat".

Our thanks to Mr Terei who backed our Queen Carnival efforts to the hilt. Tena Koe e Pa!

Also Mrs Simpson, Mrs Trifilo, Mrs Elliott, Mrs Waiti, Mr Mariu, and Pio and his band, Thomas Waitai and Carl Kay.

Nga mihi kia koutou katoa.

Finally we'd like to thank Mrs Mariu and Mr Paenga for giving great inspiration to the Polynesian club during all our performances throughout the year.

DRAMA CLUB

Plans for the production of a three-act play were reluctantly abandoned when the size and number of problems arising from casting and the meeting of production dates made it clear that something less than a first-rate production would be achieved. Next year we hope to avoid these particular problems by setting to work at the beginning of the first term and thus having only the routine, run-of-the-mill, perfectly NORMAL catastrophes to cope with.

For this year, however, all is not lost. Work is proceeding at a feverish pace on three One-Act plays which will be presented for a two-night season early in the third term. We ardently hope that by the time this magazine makes its appearance these three comedies will have taken an honourable, if modest, place in Rutherford theatrical history.

Plans for next year include the possibilities of a modern musical and an entry in the N.Z. Theatre Federation One-Act Play Festival, but the success of these plans will depend entirely upon a vigorous and enthusiastic response from members. Every scrap of talent, enthusiasm and interest can be used and will be welcomed gladly, so come along and help the show go on.

DRAMA CONTEST

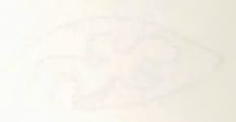

Miss Mooney walked into our room with a gleeful grin and pronounced that because she loved us so much, we were allowed the privilege of organising the drama contest!

So after strenuous organisation, rain pouring down, raincoats, shoes, and bags strewn everywhere, 70 teams (of 3-5 members each) being packed into the drama room, and the message to "Squash Up!" written across the walls, - the drama contest began.

We had a special judge from the Department of Education brought in, who had a hard job to pick from all the talent which poured forth. Some particularly good skits came from Lisa Hargreaves group (4B), the girls from 6H, various groups from 30n1, and many, many more. From others came skits such as: dead bodies (5A), Shotgun weddings (5B) and Romeo and Juliet (5A). But finally it was time to finish and one of the last groups claimed the prize.

Christopher Moore, John Burnett, and Paul Mackintosh, from 30n1 gave a very good mime of dynamiting in the jungle and so were the eventual winners. Special thanks must be given to the Judge, the members of 5A (who missed a maths lesson!), and of course Miss Mooney and many others for an amusing but eventful contest.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION CAMP

All third form pupils this year took part in Rutherford's first Outdoor Education Camp held at Hunua. This area provided plenty of opportunity for the three main aims of the camps - Challenge, Self-Discipline, Enjoyment. All third formers spent two and a half days at camp and almost all of them said sadly as they left on the bus home, "Why can't we stay longer?" A true indication of the enjoyment had at camp. Of course some activities were tackled with less enthusiasm than others. Cleaning toilets, burning rubbish, sweeping bunk rooms, for some strange reason, were not tackled with the same vigour and energy as bushcrashing, eeling, map reading, swimming, bridge-building, stream walking, climbing the pipeline. On the domestic side cooking was popular, in fact at times too popular (Too many heavy-handed 3rd formers spoil the broth). The highlight of each camp was the long dayhike - a choice of 3 hikes of varying degrees of difficulty, each full of challenge and full of fun.

Of course lots of mistakes were made at our first Outdoor Education Camp, but it was a challenge physically, mentally and socially to pupils and teachers - a very exhausting experience for some but at the same time full of fun and laughter.

THE EASTER TRIP TO MAYOR ISLAND

The bus was to leave at 6 from Auckland, but arrived an hour late in the main street of the dead and deserted coastal town of Tauranga. Out popped eleven unruly kids in the charge of a somewhat embarrassed, recently adopted Mum (Miss Wilson). The tents were finally pitched when the midnight bell had rung. We had to make the most of the foot freezing five hours of sleep we were to get before we had to rise and shine, just to catch the boat to our final destination - Mayor Island.

After a long journey by boat, we set foot on solid ground again, only to have to set up camp for the second time in twelve hours. This was to be home for 3 days.

All of us kids (boys included), under Mum's eye, prepared meals, which if not attended were missed, and you just went hungry. Cooking over gas was all right, but washing dishes in pots that couldn't hold a bread and butter plate was something else! So we finally let the sea be our tub, and the sand our pot cleaner.

The reef was the highlight of the trip. Seeing schools of brightly coloured fish swimming among the seaweed was incredible.

We finally arrived home by bus at about 11p.m. Monday night.

R.H.S. GOES SOUTH

The South Island couldn't have expected us because there were no brass bands present at Christchurch International (I hesitate to call it that) Airport, however they very soon realised that we, R.H.S., had arrived. That was Friday, May 9th, 1975. Thirty two pupils and six ever so brave teachers departed from Auckland International (I'm sure of that) Airport and sixty three minutes later arrived in that wild part of the dominion that we had heard so much about but could not enter until we formed a large enough group to ward off the natives in times of crisis.

After our luggage was collected we all made our way to our 'yellow Cougar bus' which was to be our transport for the thirteen days of fun and games that lay ahead. That thirteen days was to take us through Fairlie, Queenstown, Invercargill, Manapouri, Milford, Alexandra and then back to Christchurch.

On the way to Fairlie we stopped at a Canterbury mixed intensive grassland farm (which to the disappointment of some did not grow carrots). Various farming techniques were explained to us but in the excitement of the sheep escaping all was soon forgotten. Who did leave the gate open anyway? Thank God there was a country boy handy, (a sort of Little Bo-Peep who lost his sheep) and within minutes this courageous young Aucklander had all the little baby lammies back in their pen. We arrived at Fairlie early in the evening and it was not many hours before we were on the bus again that next dreadfully cold morning. A stop was made on the shores of Lake Tekapo, and the beautiful Church of the Good Shepherd almost lost some of it's Godliness for a brief moment when thirty two little devils rushed in and used up rolls of film on the altar with the lake in the background (you know, the one you see in glorious technicolour on the picture postcards). After a short but enjoyable stint in Twizel Hydro town we finally made our way to Queenstown. A very enjoyable five nights were spent here with all thirty-two pupils sleeping together (not like that stupid). It was at this time that the peerage tension began to wear thin and in one certain eventful night at ice skating we all proved that we really would stick together in times of need. While at Queenstown we had many enjoyable sights to see, crisis at Skippers Pass when a bus driver was distracted and the emergency exit had to be used meant that a large number of us were treated to a longer look than usual at the incredible views that Skippers presented us with. The deer farm and the traditional mining town were also on the agenda with an 'orgasmic' plane flight for those very few who were financial enough. A cold visit to Coronet Peak and a windy excursion to Arrowtown (protein lunch and all) clinched the day. Most of the next day was spent (for those who had very little brain but plenty of brawn, or at least thought they did) walking up, yes actually walking up Bobs Peak. I've heard about New Zealanders come alive but this is ridiculous. By the way, those who had plenty of brains took the gondolas up. For most, the afternoon was spent recuperating. On Thursday 15th we left for Invercargill, the whole of Queenstown knowing that we had come and gone, and some unscrupulous persons knowing that we had left our beloved banner behind in the lake. On arriving at Invercargill, it was decided that a trip to Comalco was in order - however the plant eluded us somehow and we ended up at the ill-fated Bluff port and a very tastefully decorated house made entirely from Paua shell (MEIN GOTT!). Bluff, which is exactly what it was, was interesting if not for that infamous signpost at the bottom tip of the South Island where untold rolls of film were wasted on those of the party that pictured themselves as models.

Wednesday 21st May, 1975, this was the last day, but it did not show on the thirty eight faces that alighted at Christchurch. The day was spent with stops at Palmerston, Oamaru, Timaru and Ashburton before finally singing goodbye to Allan (will he ever forget us?), at the airport. The teachers edged away from their flock, as familiar voices were heard resounding through the airport at Christchurch, and after only fifteen minutes delay (not bad for the South Island) we boarded the plane for our beloved Auckland. On that turbulent flight (perhaps they didn't want us to go) we began to reminisce on the trip that had done so much to help us in such a short time. About the teachers who did their best. About the pyjamas which mysteriously provided night time entertainment for all those who slept with the unlucky victims. About the two beauty queens, who tried their hardest to convince everyone that they really were beauty queens. About the chicken bone, the potatoe pinchers, the fruit cake, the chip shops, the friends, the people and about all the other many things which go to make a South Island Field Trip as successful as the 1975 one was.

SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE - VOYAGE 36 5-15 AUGUST 1975

On Tuesday 5th August at 10a.m. we joined the ship at Marsden Wharf. We were given our wet weather gear and we then packed all the provisions on board. On this trip there were 27 trainees and 6 permanent crew. We were divided up into three watches, Red, White, and Blue, and we were then told our sailing stations for the next three days, after which we would swap to another position.

The next day we were woken at 6a.m. We had Phys Ed on Marsden Wharf, and then we sailed out of Harbour, heading towards TiriTiri and then to Mahurangi for our first night at sea. From Mahurangi, we went to Kawau, Pakatoa, Te Kouma Harbour, Coromandel, Waiheke and Motuihe. The whole trip was neat and we had a gunny time.

The ship has a book for records set on different voyages. These include: 14 second streak by the Captain, 14 people in one bunk and 15 on one chair. On our voyage we set several new records - a 14 second streak to the top of the mast by one of the trainees, 73 prunes eaten in one sitting, and 14 guys in one shower.

Next year there will be another chance for Rutherford pupils to join a cruise. My advice is, don't miss it.

NEW CALEDONIA FIELD TRIP - SEPTEMBER 1975

On Saturday September 8th, at 9.50, Air New Zealand Flight TE404 took off from a grey windswept cold Auckland International Airport, and 2 hours and forty minutes later it landed at Tontouta International Airport, New Caledonia. About 1 hour later we arrived at the Noumea Hotel on the Baie de Citrons (Bay of Lemons) and our holiday had begun. We disembarked from our bus and dived with death crossing the road, because all French and New Caledonian drivers are maniacs, and they all drive on the wrong side of the road. So there we stood, the cream of Rutherford High School, Mrs Rainer and her French Phrase book, shrieking: "Il perd du sang." (he's losing blood), which bore no reference to the occasion, Mr Hunt with his movie camera at the ready, Mr Haigh arguing with the people in the hotel Mr Stewart chatting up some girls in a car, and Mrs O'Neill having a well deserved rest, a thing she was to do with great dexterity, and quite frequently, later. After settling in, we all decided to go and watch some native cricket, which is played entirely by women. What a shambolic affair. There were 4 women at the wicket at the one time, with a rather evil pile of bats of assorted shapes and sizes behind each set of stumps. The idea was to score as many runs as possible - how they achieved this was a totally different matter, I don't think anyone quite figured how it was done. On Sunday we went to a Melanesian Festival called Melanesia 2000. It was quite an affair. It was designed to portray the Melanesian way of life, showing their customs, dances, rituals etc. On Wednesday we went on a trip to Mont Dore for a native meal called a Bougna. On the way we visited the historic missions of La Conception and St Louis. These are very old churches and the stained-glass windows in them were very beautiful. The Bougna was run by a French woman, who does this especially for the tourists. It is the Melanesian form of a 'hangi', and consists of potato, sweet potato, taro, yam and chicken, all bathed in coconut milk, wrapped in banana leaves, and cooked in the ground. I don't know anyone who didn't like it. On Thursday we went to the Amedee Lighthouse. This stands on an island 28km south of Noumea, and is the third largest in the world. It is 53m high, which is a long way up if you have to climb it. On Friday we had a free day to spend our few remaining francs on the irresistible souvenirs. And that night our last dinner was enjoyed at the local restaurant, "Le Sydney". Next morning (Saturday) we packed up and left for the airport. We staggered on board our D.C.8 for the return voyage, and we finally touched down at 3:50. Was it worth all the money? I think I could speak for everyone in saying: YES. And I know we would all like to thank Mr Haigh and all the other members of staff who made the trip possible.

COMMUNITY EDUCATION IN TE ATATU

Eighteen months ago Rutherford was officially designated a Community School. At that time phrases like "Community School", "Community Education", were flowing readily from the lips of teachers because we all thought these things were a jolly good idea. We still do - more so now than before, but do you understand what these phrases mean? Let me try and explain. Community education is a process of education designed to meet the needs of the whole community - and not just the students who must attend school because they are too young to leave. Remember that the word education applies to any activity which meets the needs of an individual or a group. Learning to play badminton or indoor basketball; learning to bake a cake, studying for an examination subject or learning how to live with your neighbours - these are a few of the thousands of learning experiences which can come under the general heading of "education". At school, students work to a fairly well defined curriculum. However, once away from the school these restrictions disappear and every subject, every skill, every opportunity that the eager school leaver has ever yearned to experience is awaiting him (or her) - and he knows he has another fifty years of life ahead of him (probably half of it leisure time) in which to satisfy his hungry appetite for learning. Or does he? The truthful answer is no. Firstly the majority of school leavers are unaware of the fact that they will continue to develop and change in mind and body with every day that passes. These changes require mental, physical and emotional adjustments. Making adjustments successfully means learning how to cope with them - new job, a need for additional qualifications or training, marriage, growing children, responsibility, increased leisure time, family health, retirement, bereavement. These are just a few of the adjustments most of us will have to face in our lives. Secondly, even if every school leaver was aware of his changing basic needs, he would be fortunate indeed to live in a community which could offer all the necessary services, educational opportunities, recreational facilities etc., necessary for his continued development. Community Education is the process which works towards this ideal situation in the community. A Community Education Programme is the stage at which the majority of the community become involved, by attending classes, joining a social or recreational activity, and so on. Community Education, in order to arrive at a programme which meets the many and varied needs of all sectors of the community, requires the understanding, support and involvement of many people. •The community must look at itself and ask some questions.

"Is this a 'good' community to live, work, bring up a family in?"

"Does this community offer opportunities for the individual to develop as a person?"

"What does this community have in the way of facilities, services, people, that can help to make this a place where opportunities for development exist?"

"Can I help?"

Although every school belongs in a community and is therefore a community school, the term as it applies to Rutherford means that we have recognised our responsibilities to the wider community. Rutherford High School with its extensive human and physical resources is moving towards involvement in the total process of Community Education in Te Atatu. We are but one of the many "learning centres" on the peninsular catering for the educational needs of a minority group. Students, parents, teachers and the community at large must learn to regard 'education' as a lifelong process involving the Community as a whole - not only those privileged by age or intellect to attend a formal institution.

FIRE EXIT

It was a glorious January day with a light breeze from the south. Several members of staff were working quietly in their offices and labs, and Mr Lascelles went round the windows of D Block checking to see what maintenance work needed to be done. We had morning tea and went back to work.

A few minutes later Miss Cuthbert looked up from her typewriter in the Office and saw over the roof of Room 9 a dark column of smoke, followed by flames. It must have been at the same moment that a resident of Toru Street looked across at the school and seeing the heavy smoke wondered what on earth the caretaker could be burning in the incinerator. She hesitated for a second, and then went to ring the Fire Brigade. When she went back to look again, flames were leaping high above the block which was blazing from end to end.

In no time at all, it seemed, the fire engines were there. The firemen were magnificent, working calmly and efficiently in the almost unbearable conditions of a very hot day, a blazing fire which scorched the watchers' faces many feet away, and thick protective clothing which might have been comfortable down in Antarctica. With the fire engines appeared scores of children determined to get close to the action, quite oblivious of the crackling fibrolite which exploded with such force that large pieces were picked up halfway across the Primary School's playing field. Nobody cheered as the building collapsed; hardly anyone tried a smart remark--such sudden and uncontrollable destruction is awe-inspiring and nobody felt like being funny about it.

Mr Clark stood there for a short time, then went inside and began planning. If school was going to open on the set day, there was a lot to be done. As I went home later that afternoon, I noticed the Star billboard at the local dairy: TOP SCHOOL IN FLAMES.

Oh well, recognition, anyway.

THE FIRST THING I CAN REMEMBER

The first thing I can remember of my earlier years was putting the cat in the oven!

I can see it clearly in my mind. It was a cold autumn day and I was alone in the kitchen with our cat. She was curled up by the warm stove and purring loudly. I picked her up, and, almost strangling her in one arm, took her to the bathroom to wash her face! Next, after a struggle, she was placed in the oven to dry! Toddling outside I can remember tugging at my mother's skirts, whispering, "Pussy, pussy" to my mother. She raced inside fearing the worst. Unable to find him she asked, "Where's the pussy?" Obliging I pointed to the oven and repeated, "Pussy, pussy."

However, it was too late, our cat was now deceased. Roasted, in fact.

The reason this episode stands out in my mind, is because my mother cried, and we lived off uncooked food for days, and although I was only young at the time I will never forget my mother's face.

THE CAT AND THE GOLDFISH

If I were a goldfish, thought the cat;

I would swim in my glass case of water, round and round, only stopping for breath.

If I were a cat, thought the goldfish;

I would run and play all day until my little paws fell.

*The cat has a huge world,
'thought the goldfish.*

An eerie scream fills the air
 You prop yourself up on an elbow, and wonder what's there.

Then losing your boldness and sudden spurt of fight
 You disappear under the blankets, and curl up tight

Lying there quietly,
 Bathed in your sweat,
 You think of Dracula
 and who he's just met.

Not a muscle twitches,
 Not an eyelid batters
 Only your heart thuds
 But that doesn't seem to matter.

Time passes at a snails pace,
 and you grow somewhat bolder,
 You get out of bed, a relief
 As though a tremendous weight had just been lifted off your shoulder.

You stand up out of bed, feeling a bit lax.
 Then the same spine chilling scream,
 HORROR FILLS THE DARK.

 delight as the rays liven his body.
 He rises, his face a skeleton
 A devilish body,
 The flesh rotting on his fingers.
 The bones creak and rattle as he shuffles about Sucking at the blood on his hands
 He is not the first of the vampires to drink his own BLOOD.

THE FIRST THING I CAN REMEMBER

In my early years we lived on a farm. I can remember as clearly as if it were yesterday the joyous times and freedom we had. My brother and I always found something new each day that we had not come across before in our adventures. We rode cows and teased the bulls in their separate paddocks. We used to get up early in the mornings and help or I should say hinder Dad while he was milking the cows. We used to drink the cow's milk straight from the udder. Our farm was next to an air-base so we were used to the drone of aircraft engines. But, one morning a helicopter circled round and round our little farm house. As my mother and I watched from the kitchen window we saw a parachutist jump from the helicopter. My mother screamed and my spine chilled: the young parachutist had not pulled the rip cord. As she lay in the over-grown grass we could see that there was absolutely no hope for her: she had fallen on a log. Mum ran to the phone and called for help. I remained at the window and watched my father hurdling over the fences to her aid. She was killed instantly, lying over the log my brother and I used to use as a plank to get across the creek. I was too young then to know why she had failed to pull the cord but as I grew older and heard my parents talking about it I learned the full story. She was a young parachutist and it was her wedding day. Her husband was also a parachutist and they had arranged for the priest to marry them in the helicopter and then they would both jump. Everyone thought of it as a great misfortune and a terrible accident. But accident it was not, because tucked in her jacket my Dad found a suicide note.

I remembered this experience because I always felt as if it were my fault she died as I knew we weren't meant to leave the logs in the grass because when Dad cut the hay the logs broke the blades and I had left the log there.

THE FIRE AT RU

The buff buttercup barracks stood with smashed windows:
elephant trunks-life lines lying around;
its spine broken,
blackened roofs-
toast cooked over a smoky fire.

The two storey Government paint lay dissolved, a black charred Babel-
a baby block tower fallen;

the sugar at the teacup bottom.
A hose jets a pencil of water
into the smouldering side;
the pink doors,
stairs leading nowhere...
the second storey gone.
Twisted boards fall,
fall as the finger of water
touches them,
finding them out-
a diagnosing doctor....
a hunting dog.

People stand and gaze
oggle eyed, talking moving walking avoiding the snakes:
writhing through the water-
coral snakes, land snakes
reverently stepped over....
lampreys lie attached,
sucking the blood from their prey,
not just the fire engine.

Charred flagpoles crack,
a fireman under white plastic stomps through the locker bays:
a black corridor,
chinks and craters of light gazing through.
The toilets stand out
gazing at tennis courts,
eyes scorched out,
burnt away-
only the skin staying intact.
The Puritan grey hiding the black broken
charred remains.... the collapsed body-
the fallen card castle called once,
Block 'D'

Just We

CAR RALLY

Here I am at the starting point with my boot shining, my engine purring. I'm in top form.

Within a count of ten and a bang of a gun, I'm off. I've never been in a car rally before. Before I was just an old heap of tinny rubbish lying in a scrapyard, when some guy comes along and decides to have a go at changing an old pumpkin into Cinderella's golden Royal coach.

He spent hours on me mending parts here and there that had fallen off and died long ago. And now just look at me, shining fit, and raring to go. I'm doing eighty miles an hour, and I'm catching up to that big fancy yellow car in front, whose only pleasure seems to be in showing off to Shirley, the sports car. I'm going so fast I can feel my speedy tires burning. As I look ahead I can see Shirley and old Yeller are making a big hit. Right, this is it, I think to myself. I rev up my engine, and speed ahead, taking careful aim and bang, that's Mr Big out of the race. I see the look in Shirley's big headlights, and I can see she's impressed by my heroic act. I delightfully cruise along with the beautiful Shirley, happily digesting every look and word of approval she gives me. Then I hear a voice that wakes me out of my beautiful day dream. 'O.K. Mac cut the big stuff, we're out to win this crazy race, and that's just what we're going to do.' It was my faithful owner, his voice was stern, and it made my engine tremble a little, so I revved up my engine again and passed every other car, leaving Shirley with an astonished look on her face. Well that's life! Think of yourself, that's what I say. The only way to get on in this world is...."Are you trying to kill somebody?" Oops, that's me day dreaming again. It was an old green van racing alongside. I look ahead and there's four cars in front of me now. This is where my fancy act comes in. I do a wheelie almost tipping Clive, my owner, out and race ahead once more. I skid along the road and pull in at a frail looking petrol station.

"Give me five super oil," I say. I beep my horn, and rev my engine. If you want something, you've got to make yourself heard.

After drinking the petrol, I get ready to set off. "Splutter, pardon," I say. Off I go again and I'm still in the lead. I guess some cars just have a natural talent for car rallies. Not that I'm showing off or anything, I'm very modest when you come to think of it.

"Come on car, we're nearly at the finishing line. I can hear the people cheering," said Clive. If I can just get up some more super speed, there's a pink beach buggy at the back of us. Come on car, he's gaining -on us," said Clive "We're never going to make it at this rate," he says again. Not very encouraging is he? Still, I suppose you can get worse owners than I have.

By now I can hear the crowd shouting and screaming, five yards to go, can I make it. Yes. "We've won, we've won," shouts Clive. Don't you mean I won this mad race for you, I think as I sit back happily enjoying the praise, as people pin ribbons on me. "That was a good race," I think so myself, and just to make my day even bigger, delightful Shirley comes and kisses me on the number plate. Yes, that was the best day of my life.

THE FLY

The air felt cool and crisp as my tiny wings beat furiously on this never-ending ocean of air. At intervals my body was rocketed mercilessly about within the arms of the wind, but I strove to balance myself. Hunger etched at my being as I had fed only on a few scraps over these last few days.

Suddenly as if in consolation for my hunger a tantalizing smell caught my nostrils, drawing me in its wake as if to a magnet. Slowly I made my way to its source until below I could see towering from the ground a hollow mountain. I knew from experience that within these peculiar mountains dwelt gigantic creatures whose ugliness and peculiar formation were fearsome even to the bravest flies. Slowly I descended from my height, eager now only to find an entrance through which I could gain entry. I hovered outside waiting for a chance when this impregnable mountain would open its walls.

Suddenly the air shook and my body was swept helplessly to and fro and as I steadied myself a gap in the mountain showed, I flew inside. Now the smell was stronger, nicer, perhaps dangerously close and before me lay an ocean of food. Miles of food stretched in front, hypnotising me with the aroma. Yet even as I attempted to land my body was swung by a new power away from the food. The air vibrated with such intensity my body was numbed, yet somehow I managed to continue to fly and with great anguish I headed for the strange white sky above me. My feet fastened on the smooth surface and here I remained until I had regained my senses. But before I had moved I saw coming towards me a giant. The huge body moved slowly, balanced on only 2 legs with remarkable ease. The ugliness appalled me, and the noise emitted by this creature was full of harshness, deafening to my ears. In sudden fright I began to move but too late, once again the air vibrated, my body was forced downwards and thus I fell unable to save myself. Yet somehow I remained alive, but my body was filled with pain and fear. Death did not come, instead I recovered. Too soon though I realised all was not finished as I smelt a strange aroma. At first it was pleasant, but as if in a sudden change of temper the scent became harsh and sickening, drawing all life from me.

In a daze I managed to crawl from that smell and even managed to fly to a safe spot to rest. For days I remained like this until I had enough strength to escape. Within minutes I had found an open space but as I flew towards it an invisible barrier knocked me back. I fought this barrier until I felt a socket of air curling upwards from below. Following this I found a gap and through this I regained contact with the outside world. But I was in such a daze I did not notice the silky cloud I was nearing. Too late I felt the silky threads entwining my body, trapping me within the bonds, and then I saw the monster crawling towards me. His eyes threatening my escape, his hairy body nearing me.

Yes once again I was too late!

TRACK AND FIELD MEETING
1975

For the first time the annual Athletic Sports were split into a Junior School Meeting (3rd and 4th Forms) - held on Tuesday March 4th - and a Senior School Meeting held on Thursday March 6th. This was necessitated by the huge entries we've had in recent years (certainly a healthy sign), and the increased difficulty of having to cater for so many different categories for each event. Our sports had outgrown themselves! The track itself was again in poor condition and could be described as dangerous in some areas.

Thus the 100m events were held on the good surface in the centre of the track along with the hurdles events. Thanks must go to Mr Martin, Mr Peden, Mr Evans and some 5th form classes who constructed concrete discus and shot put circles. New events in 1975 were 800m for girls in ALL age categories, and Triple Jump for boys in ALL age categories. Hurdles heights and distances were also brought into line with intersecondary school requirements.

SWIMMING 1975

This year we reverted to championship events only being held on sports day and the entries were staggering, especially in the sprint events. With a limit of 3 events being imposed, the way was open for swimmers who didn't belong to a club to be able to compete and have a chance of being placed.

The outstanding swimmers at the meeting were Ross Hick and Patricia Crawford in establishing new records and they both went on to be the most successful at the intersecs.

INTERSEC SWIMMING 1975

Boys: Ross Hick gained two firsts and was also a member of our senior relay team that won the glamour event and consequently won 3 pennants which is the maximum anyone can win in one year. Congratulations Ross.

Other members of the senior relay were J.Wain, Thomas Waitai, Peter Dunn, Ross Miller and Tai Hancock.

Jon Wain, Vance Headland, and Ross Miller also gained placings in their finals. Overall the team finished 4th this year but it was the seniors who did the major work in points scoring.

Girls: Competing against 30 other schools in open competition proved to be really tough for our girls and although several were placed in their heats they were not in the six fastest times except for Patricia Crawford. Patricia won two certificates for 3rd placings in finals and this is an outstanding performance.

Again the senior relay team did well to reach the top six although they were unplaced in the final. The team was Patricia Crawford, Debbie Davies, Heather Norman and Esther Juhasz.

ROWING

In the 1974-75 summer season Rowing was reintroduced as a sport at Rutherford after an absence of several years.

We started with nine active crew members and an enthusiastic committee of 8 parents and interested local people, and under the experienced coaching of Mr Denis Delaney and Mr Graham Pottberry, the crews travelled to regattas as far afield as Te Awamutu to compete with success.

A training camp was held over the Christmas holidays at Lake Karapiro, the venue of the World Rowing Championships to be held in 1978.

This Year's squad of 21 included five girls and the members are all in training and looking forward to a successful season's competition.

One of the most exciting items of news is the future siting of the well established Waitemata Rowing Club at Te Atatu, which will enable rowers to carry on in the sport in this area after leaving Rutherford.

The school would like to thank all the members of the community who gave assistance in getting rowing off the ground, and to the committee for their grand efforts through out the year.

The assistance given by Mr Wise, the Director of Continuing Education at Rutherford, in helping to establish this sport is appreciated.

YACHTING

It is pleasing to note that more interest has been shown in encouraging Yachting as a sport within the school. During a sixth form Hobby's period, a number of pupils took the opportunity of blowing the academic cobwebs from their brains, by indulging in their favourite sport on the waters of the Henderson estuary. The major event on the yachting calendar for pupils, is the Secondary School Championships.

The overall places being:

1st: Rangitoto College 0 points
 2nd: Massey High School 13 points
 3rd: Rutherford High School 13.7 points.

When it is considered that some of the big names of youth yachting were competing, this was an outstanding effort. Thanks are due to Mr. Hoyle for his interest and time spent in arranging the yachting activities within the school.

CRICKET 1st XI

The 1st XI was entered for the first time this year in the stronger 4A grade.

However the team found no difficulty in coping with the higher standard and by the halfway stage were placed fourth in the competition.

The 3rd Form boys brought a keen attitude into the field and set examples with fine catching.

The team should do well in the second half of the competition.

Team Members:

P. Breckon, (captain) G. Cherrie, R. Brazendale, R. Coombs, T. Peters, P. Jones, I. Robinson, M. Cox, I. Godber, T. Stewart, I. Collis, D. Biddlecombe, D. Larsen, B. Keenan, B. Aitken.

Back Row: P. Jones, R. Coombs, M. Hays, I. Godber, I. Robinson.

The 1st XV was again entered in the Senior A Grade for 1975. The form shown in pre-season games was good and the team promised well for the season. However this was not to be.

Narrow losses were a feature of the season and on five occasions we were beaten by narrow margins of four points or less.

The best performances were against the stronger sides and narrow losses were recorded against Mt Albert, St Pauls and Otahuhu College.

An outstanding victory was recorded against Kings College. The score was 12-10 and the exciting win was sealed in the final minutes of the game.

The special fixtures were highly successful for the team this year. Good victories were recorded against Rangitoto College, Pukekohe High School, The Old Boys and in the Te Atatu Rugby Club shield match. Ruth-erford regained the shield from Henderson High School.

With the main core of the team returning next year we look forward to a successful season in 1976.

SECOND XV

A disappointing year for this team, after a very promising beginning; unfortunately for the small band of dedicated team members, players who began the year dropped out with the result that the same team could not be fielded each game.

It is to the credit of those few that team morale was so high despite the record - played 10 won 3 lost 7.

It is hoped that next season this team can be established with regular members building on the experience gained this year.

4TH GRADE RUGBY TEAM

COACH: Mr Paenga

TEAM: D.Ratahi, R.Gerrie, B.Lundon, I.Cross, L.Loftus, L.Cameron, N.TeHuia, M.Deverell, N.Putt, D.Waitai, Q.Hewer, M.Lewin, P.Stevens (Capt.) B.Brooking, G.Smith, M.Donald, B.Keenan.

The 4th Grade Rugby team did not experience a successful season this year. The team began with a good win in the local competition and it was obvious from this game that there was a great deal of talent amongst some of the team members. It was unfortunate however that the standard of teamwork gradually phased out and this resulted in a series of losses and only one further game won.

HOCKEY 1st XI

The Boy's 1st XI Hockey had another good year. We won all but one of our Competition games by impressive margins and it is quite evident that we weren't in the correct grade, 3B, but that can be blamed on the Auckland Hockey Association. As the season progressed a better standard of teamwork developed amongst the forwards and the halves.

Special mention must be made of the fine efforts on the part of Jeffrey Adams, Logan Muller, and Arun Pragji. All three are first season players for the school team, and all performed creditably. Jeffrey as left half, Logan as centre forward, and Arun as right full back.

As last year, the team was again captained by Philip Stewart and Barry Butler, Richard Taylor and Suresh Chiminalal performed with great credit. The fact that a great number of the team play club hockey showed up in some of the games, especially against the more inexperienced teams, e.g. Kings 11.

RESULTS:

v Kings 11	Won 18-0
v Selwyn	Won 9-1
v Rosehill	Won 9-1
v Auck Grammar	Won by default
v Otahuhu	" " "
v Mt Roskill	" " "
v Hillary	Lost 1-7
v Rangitoto	Won 9-2
v Pukekohe	Lost 8-3

GIRLS HOCKEY

Once again we had three teams playing in Open 'B', Open 'C' and 3rd 'B' grades.

JUNIOR TEAM

Linda Watchorn (capt), Suzanne Cropp, Susan Neureuter, Diane Penny, Ann Walsh, Iona Hayes, Lynette Adams, Christine Goldsbury, Janine Bell, Loretta Saunders, Gayle Abernethy, Janet Farmer, Elizabeth Grove.

Coach: Miss C. Ross

The team had a very enjoyable and successful season with 7 wins, 1 draw and 2 losses. This success is attributed to the strong team spirit generated by the captain and the enthusiasm with which all practices were attended.

2nd XI

Stephanie Morton (Capt), Joanne Keswick, Karen Walker, Diana Allely, Eva Juhasz, Debra Davies, Shirley Reiher, Adrienne Adams, Cindy Pivac, Sarah Blick, Robyn Gouch.

Coach: Mrs L.O'Neill

Although the team missed several games because of cancellations, they had an enjoyable season. Considering the inexperience of some of the team, and new players, the team did quite well in their grade and improved during the season. Their best game was the annual match against Pukekohe. Although they lost 2-0, they showed what they were capable of in this exciting game.

1st XI

Coach: Miss H. McLennan

The team did extremely well in the Saturday competition matches this year. Scoring 48 goals, with 8 against, we won all games in this competition.

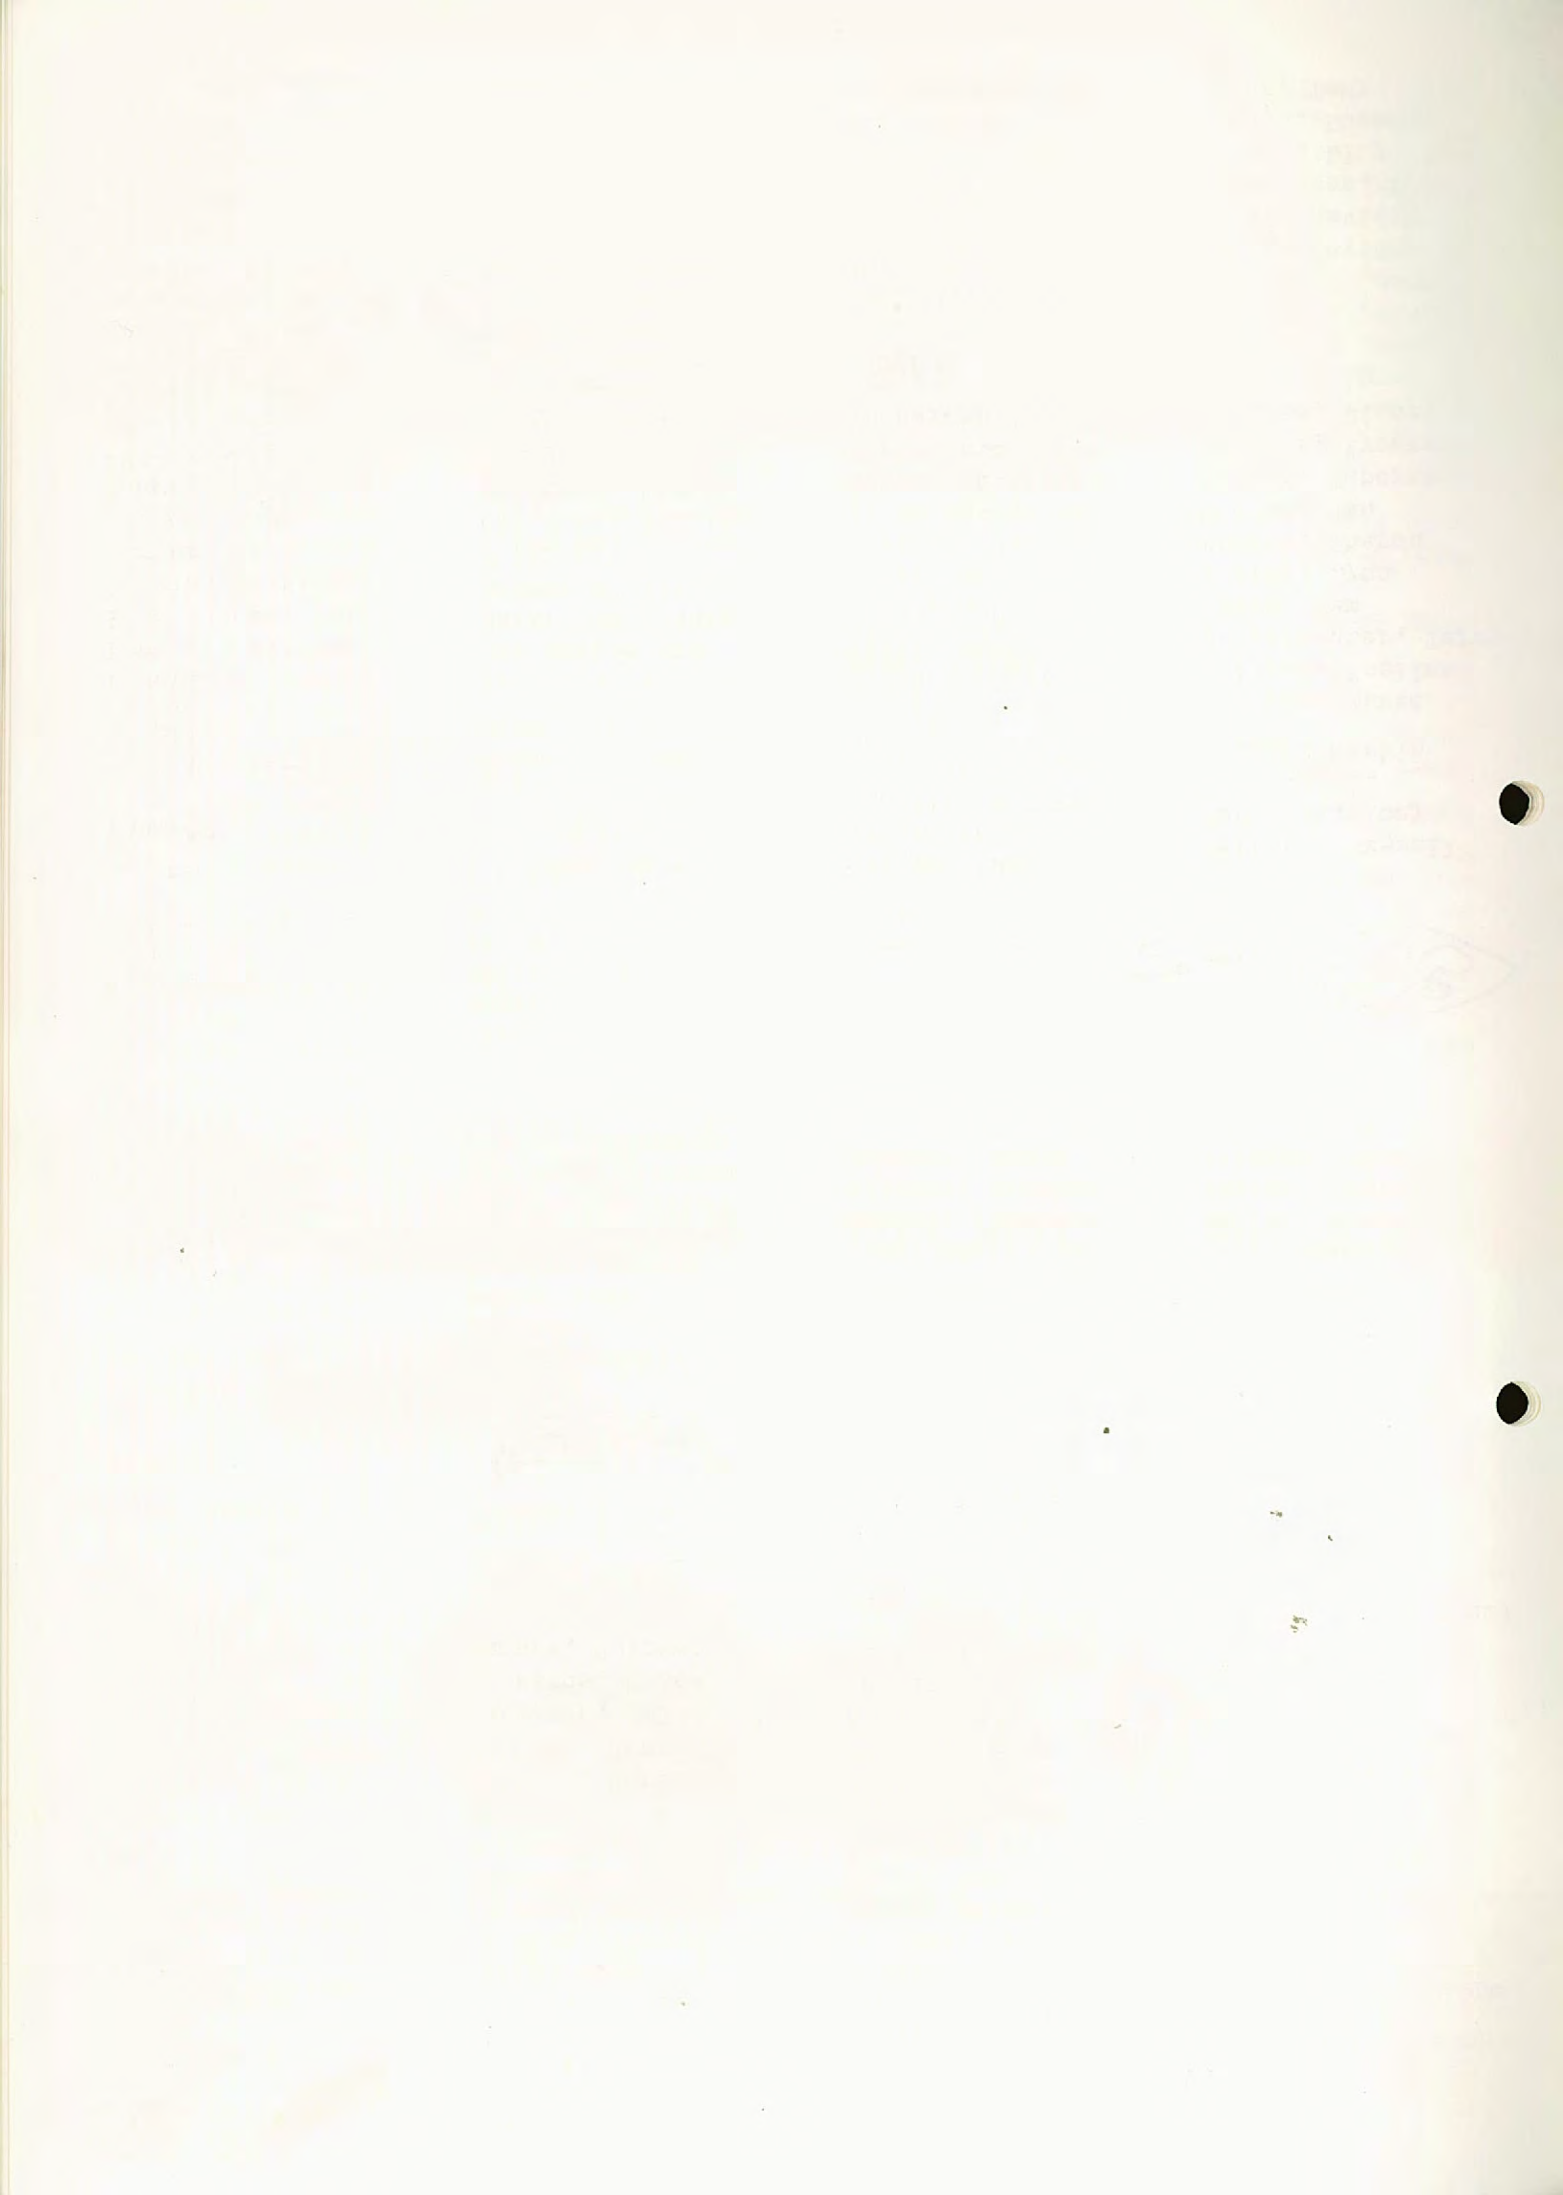

At midterm break we travelled to Whakatane to take part in their annual 11-aside tournament. After a slow start we played quite well with good results.

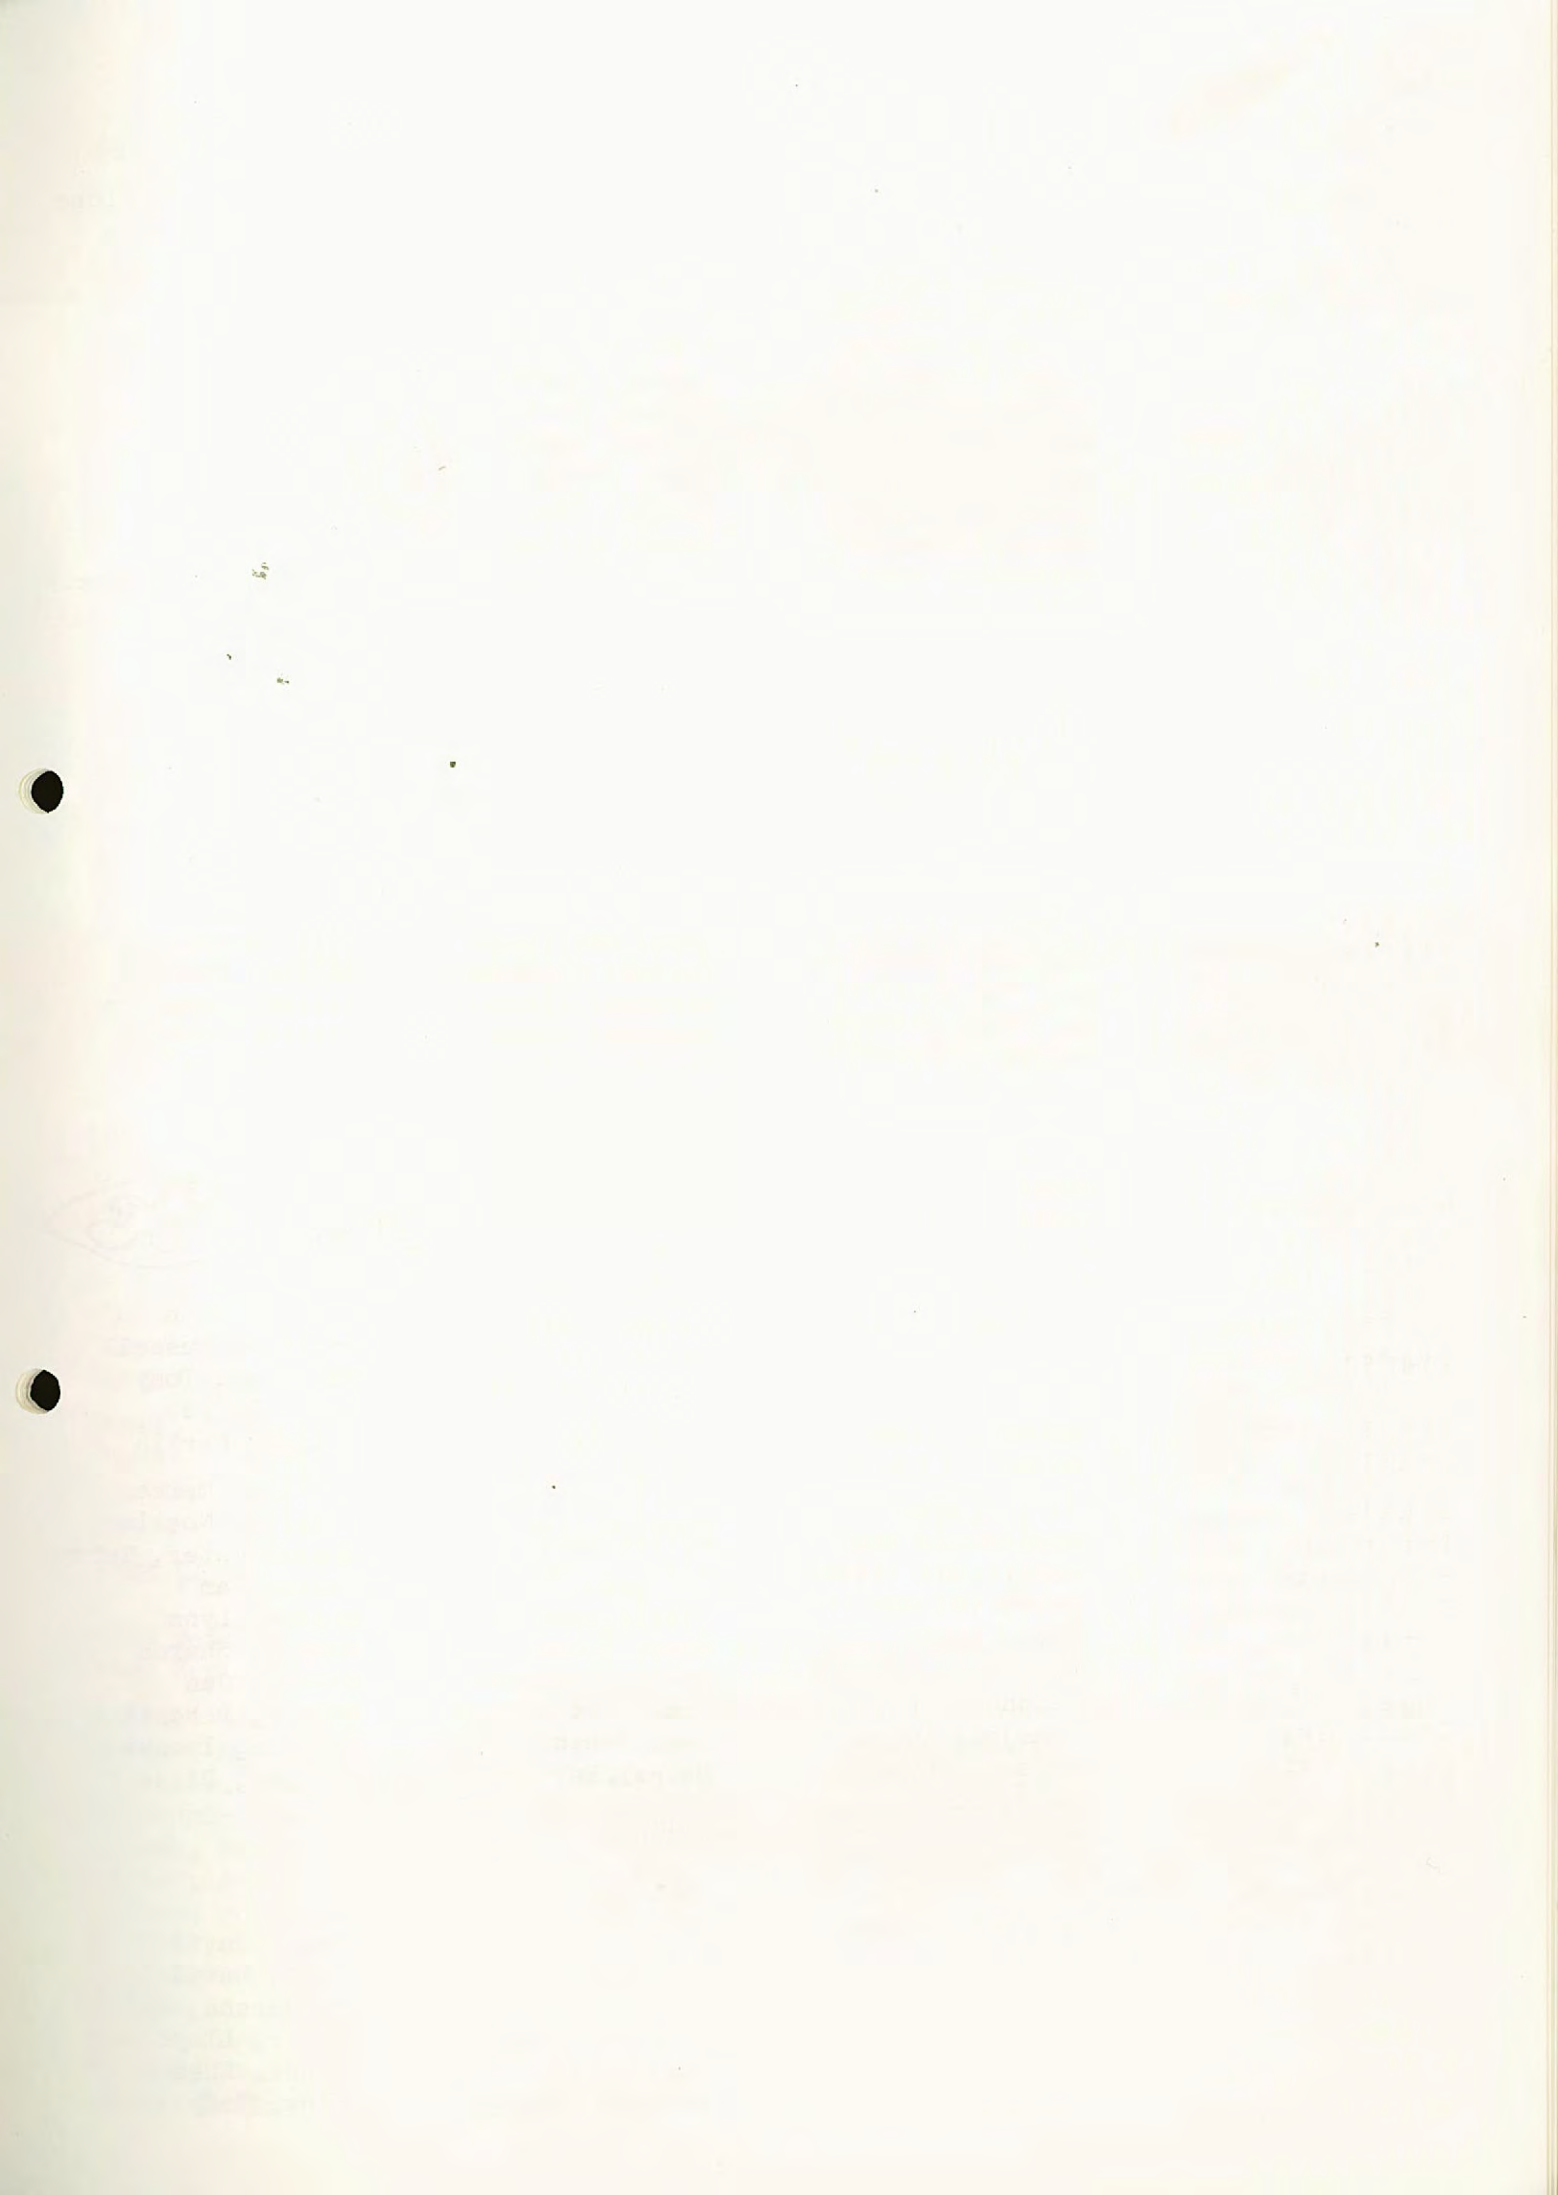

The hardest game was against Pukekohe in the annual sports interchange.

All members of the team rose to the occasion, however, so that the opposition scored 5 goals less than in the previous year's game.

Western Districts hockey club put on a tournament for the local schools at the end of the season again this year. The only school which defeated us was Lynfield College who won the shield once again.

The annual August tournament was back again this year after a rest last year - so we set off for the Wanganui tournament to try our luck. The first game against Selwyn College (what a long way we went to play the locals) gave us a 3-0 win. The next we lost to Nga Tawa College (from Marton). The following day we had a 3-2 win over Queen Elizabeth College and a 1-1 draw with Sacred Heart College from Wanganui. Wednesday saw us lose to Opunake High School. Our section was won by the undefeated Opunake team with Rutherford filling third place. Our standard of play was not quite up to the level it had been through the season, unfortunately. However, the tournament was very enjoyable and a fitting end to the season.

NETBALL

OPEN A

The Open A has proved to be one of the most successful netball teams in Rutherford's history. The team came first equal with Diocesan in the Second grade and were then promoted to the Combined Grade where they held their own.

Their last game was against Queen Victoria. At half time it was 11-10 in our favour. The game was full of excitement and tension with Rutherford in the lead by six points. But as the game came to an end, Queen Victoria made an unexpected recovery and took the game by two points making the final score 22-20. This put our team in second place in the Auckland School Girls Grade with a 31 goaling average next to Queen Victoria who had a 34 goaling average. Rutherford finally scored a victory over Pukekohe with a win of 30-20. With excellent attacking and shooting by Piki Peterson, Colleen Waddell, Nichola Ehau, Maureen Peru and outstanding defensive play by Shelley Jones and Francis Luman, they took the game easily. Rutherford was proud to have five of their girls selected as finalists for the Auckland Representative team, and congratulations to Shelley Jones who made the Auckland Collegiate Secondary Representative Team.

The team members always gave of their best and always tried hard in their games thanks to the excellent coaching by Mrs Mariu.

INTERMEDIATE "A"

TEAM: Catherine Joyce, Sheryl Tamlin, Winnie Iotua, Adelaide Anderson, Diana Bellamy, Annalena Guttenbeil, Andrea Brooks.

The "A" Team had a great deal of ability but owing to several members who did not turn up to practices and games, the final score was often not in their favour.

INTERMEDIATE "B"

TEAM: Lesli Connelly, Karina Gibson, Elizabeth Ngata, Wendy Miliona, Cheryl Talamaivao, Denise Worsley, Lisa Hargrave.

The "B" Team had a successful season with only two losses to Otakuhu and to St Cuthberts. Everyone played with team spirit and there was regular attendance at practices and games.

INTERMEDIATE "C"

TEAM: Denise Fields, Rosemary Oates, Rhonda Kitt, Audrey Hancock, Margie Hohepa, Lynette Stankovich, Maree Roberts, Reserves: Kim Evans, Suzanne Flaus.

The "C" team provided more entertainment than success but they all enjoyed themselves and had the spectators in fits with their comical antics. Novel goal shooting by Suzanne Flaus. Thanks go to Mrs Hatch for support and coaching.

Front Row: Nicola Ehau, Shelley Jones (Capt.) Colleen Waddell.

CROSS COUNTRY

We have run as a school team on three occasions this year - against Rangitoto College, against Pukekohe High School, and at the New Zealand Championships held near Palmerston North at Aokautere on 24th June 1975.

The team left Auckland by railcar on Friday 20th and were billeted by pupils from Rangitikei College in Marton. The weather was squally for the races and the course very heavy. For our first competition in this national event our three teams performed creditably and gained valuable experience.

Results are as follows:

Junior girls: D.Roby 71
D.Watson 101
L.Wain 113
Junior boys: T.King 51
P.Ward 52
I.Dustin 83
Senior boys: A.Wild 101
D.McCarthy 117
P.Day 118
R.Beynon 130
S.Phillip 152

TVP SHIELD

Lack of support for the TVP shield was reflected by the almost non-existent spectators. Because of this lack of support the series was cut to four events. In these the staff combination of maturity, skill, fitness and accuracy were too much for the pupil teams.

RESULTS:

Softball	Pupils 13-3
Hockey	Staff 2-1
Soccer	Staff 3-1
Archery	Staff 13-6

Obviously a new formula will have to be found for running the TVP shield, because it is failing in its present form.
